1/21.

d Daily Mirror

THE COUPON ON PAGE 2
SAVES MONEY.

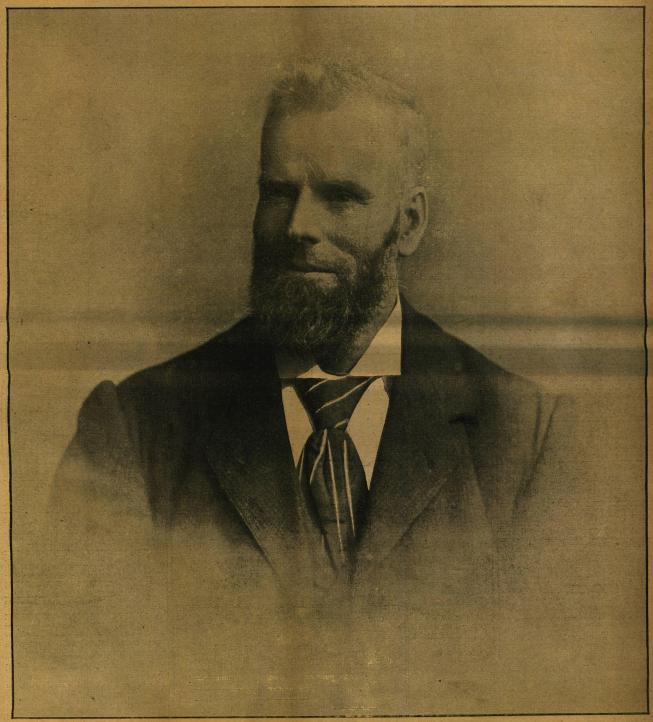

No. 200.

Registered at the G. P. O. as a Newspaper.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1904.

One Halfpenny.

THE MIRACLE WORKER TO WHOM THE LAME ARE FLOCKING.

BIRTHS.

ALDWORTH.—On the 20th inst., at Laverstock Vicarage, Salisbury, the wife of the Rev. Arthur Aldworth, of a alisbury, the wife of the Rev. Archor Advorts, of a aughter. BER.—On June 22, 1904, at 114, Oxford-street, wife of selle Faber, of a son. AM.—On June 21, at 163, Kyverdale-road, Stoke Newing-Faber, of a son.

On June 21, at 163, Kyverdale-road, Stoke Newinghe wife of Edward Sprague Oram, of a son.

On the 21st inst., at Rydal Grangeroad, Sutton, the wife of W. Lenn West, Ll.B., of a son.

MARRIAGES.

HAMS—JOSEPH.—On June 22, at the Bayswat-agogue, by the Rev. Dr. Gollancz, assisted by the Re-Harris, Jack Trevor, second son of Nathaniel Abr is, of 82. Goldhurst-terrace, N.W., to Hannah, second pter of Samuel Joseph, of 20. Compayne-garden

OWN-TREWBY-On June 22 at St. Stephen's, Clapham Park, by the vicar, the Rev. J. C. Elliott, M.A. sastied by the Rev. J. Mennies, M.A., course, J. C. Elliott, M.A. course, and the state of the part of the part of the part of the part of the state of the part of the state of the DEATHS.

NDREW.—Op June 22, after a long illness, Alice Wilson, also beloved wife of W. J. D. Andrew, of 5 and 5. Greet Park, London. Funeral on Sturday, the 25th inst. at Griston. Norfolk.
ATLEX:—On the 22mm/rss, the inflat on 67 Sidney Towned and Margaret Batley.
HERCHIARD.—On the 22nd inst., at 56. Park-lane, Crydon. Charlotte Augusta Sinde Treathing with the control of Charlotte Augusta Sinde Treathing. The Charlotte Augusta Sinde Treathing with Fore No. 60 over 10 yr request.

PERSONAL.

GO first wife. Forget me time being. 12th. No message.

RLIF.—Why are you away? Come back or community.—YOUR BERT.

RLET-RUNNER.-No thoughts hurting you, darling; in grieved myself.-DEAREST.

myself.—DEAREST. l.—No, certainly not. Surprised at the such a request. Final. -Brief conversation Monday. Forgot men-Meet 4.30, same place. Trust convenient.

SHIPPING, TOURS, Etc.

ONDON to NORWAY.—WILSON LINE HOLIDAY TOURS; first-class throughout 10 days, 8] DLIDAY TOURS; first-class throughout 10; 17 days £10 15s, inclusive.—Illustrate rom W. E. BOTT and CO., 1, East India-av

AMUSEMENTS.

HAYMARKET. TO-NIGHT at 9.
Proceeded at 8.30 by THE WIDOW. WOOS.
MATINEE EVERY WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, 2.30.

II IS MAJESTY'S THEATRE. Mr. TREE.
TO-DAY, June 24, at 2,30,
SPECIAL MATINE.
THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR.
THE MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR.
THE CONSTANCE COLLER.
Mrs. Ford Mrs. CONSTANCE COLLER.
Mrs. Face Mrs. Constance of Leadon this section.

MPERIAL THEATRE. Mr. Lewis Waller.
TO-NIGHT and EVERY EVENING at 9.
MATINEE WEDNESDAYS and SATURDAYS at 5.
MISS ELIZABETH'S PRISONER.
Preceded at 6.15 by A QUEEN'S MESSENGER.

HAFTESBURY.

EVERY EVENING at 615.
Mr. Henry W. Savages American Co. in
Mr. Henry W. Savages American Co. in MATINEE EVERY WE SELDAY and SATURDAY
BOX Office 10 to 10.

T. JAMES'S.—MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER WIll appear EVERY EVENING at 9 in "SATURDAY TO MOSDAY." (79th time).
By Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce.
By Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce.
MATINEE EVERY WEDNESDAY, 2,30.

"HE OXFORD.—VESTA TILLEY, GEORGE ROBEY, Yukio Tani, Clark and Hamilton, Geo. Cart, Vesta Victoria, Joe O'Gorman, Dutch Daly, Florence sialle, Ernest Shand, and other stars. Box Office open 6.5. SATURDAY MATINEES at 2.30. Manager, Mr. BERR GILMER.

RYSTAL PALACE.

GREAT SPORTS EXHIBITION.

X HOUNDS, HARRIERS, BRAGLES, AND BLOOD
HOUND SHOW, COUNDN POLO GROUND.

Brief, at 11.30. London County v. South Africana.

Brief, at 11.30. London County v. South Africana.

Brief, at 11.30. London County v. South Africana.

Brief, and County v. South Africana.

Brief, County v. South Africana.

Brief, Landon County v. South Africana.

Brief, Landon County v. South Africana.

Brief, Landon County v. South Africana.

Brief, County v. Sou

Miles Marins Capitive Pring Machine, Band of M. Colditeran Guards, Water Chute, Rapids, Toppy-Revolute, and other attractions.

FIREWORKS.

Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman Guards, and the Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman Guards, and the Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman Guards, and the Picture of Russo-Japaneis Warman of Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman of Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman, or Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman of Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman of Colonell Fire Pictures of Russo-Japaneis Warman of Russon of R

TO-DAY'S NEWS AT A GLANCE.

Our special weather forecast for to-day is: Variable light breezes; fine generally; very warm inland; close towards evening.

Lighting-up time: 9.19 p.m.

Sea passages will be smooth on all coasts.

The list of honours granted on the occasion of the celebration of the King's birthday was published last evening. No new perage is announced. Seven gentlemen have received baronetries.—P. 3.)

THE WAR.

Russian forces, comprising two regiments of cavalry, one infantry regiment, and a battery of artillery, attacked a Japanese force about twenty miles south of Hai-cheng, near Newchwang, but were defeated and had to retire with considerable loss. This fight is believed to be only preliminary to a battle on a huge scale near the railway.—(P. 3.)

General Kuropatkin has addressed General Kuropatkin has addressed General Stackelberg's forces, which took part in the Wafang-kan battle, and said they must settle with the Japanese promptly. "If we don't," he added, "we shall not be able to go back to our homes," (-Page 3.)

GENERAL

His Majesty the King commenced his journey to Kiel hast evening. At Charing Cross the waiting crowds accorded the royal party an enthusiastic send-off. The Victoria and Albert left at 11.15, accompanied by the escort of ten warships.— (Page 4.)

Prince Eddie, our future King, was ten years old yesterday. To celebrate the occasion the King invited 300 children to Buckingham Palace, where a performance was given by Hengler's Circus.—(Page 4.)

So far the Mirror 2,000 miles motor non-stop run has been very successful. Our special correspondent describes the difficulties on the route to Perth, and the manner in which they were overcome. The car left on its return journey at 3.45 p.m.—(Page 4).

At Newry the steeplejack Jimmy Gill, wanted by the police, still enjoys his freedom. Yesterday was market day, and crowds flocked to see him in his lofty position.—(Page 11.)

Damage to the extent of several thousands of pounds has been done by fire at Southend. The famous Kursaal and a great part of the town itself was only saved by pulling down several houses.—(Page 11.)

Firemen from the Law Courts gallantly rescued two men overcome by gas in a Strand sewer.—(Page 5.)

Madame Gabrielle Bompard, who in 1890 sentenced to a long term of imprisonment for being concerned in the sensational murder of a Parisian lawyer, is now in London. She has come in the hope of getting her memoirs published.—(P. 13.)

To celebrate the return of Nelly Toomey, who was kidnapped, the workers in the neighbourhood of Comwall-street, St. George's-in-the-East, where the child lived, observed yesterday as a holiday.—(Page 5.)

LAW AND CRIME.

Ruined financially and socially, as his counsel put it, Dr. H. S. Revell, a well-known Wandsworth practitioner, pleaded guilty, at the Central Criminal Court, to having defrauded the local Guardians of money by means of false vaccination cases. Sentence was postpond.—(Page 5.)

John Sullivan, a seaman, was, at the Old Bailey, found guilty of murdering a deck-boy on the homeward voyage of the ss. Waiwera from New Zealand, and sentenced to death. He accused Mr. Justice Grantham of having slept during his counsel's pleading, and also of being prejudiced against him.—(Page 5.)

In the High Court dispute between doctors as to the value of a Clapton practice the jury found that the contention of Dr. Ponder, suggesting he had been misled, was not substantiated. Judgment was accordingly entered for the plaintiffs with costs.—(Page 5.)

Somerset, as usual, are making a good fight in the match with Yorkshire. Exciting play was seen at the Oval, where, thanks to fine bowling by Lees, Lancashire were all dismissed for 173. Cambridge played well at Lord's, and at the close M.C.C. were 145 behind, with only four wickets in hand.—(Page 15.)

FREE FOR YOU

10 - DOWN BUYS

BATTY'S NABOB SAUCE

THE SAUCE THAT PLEASES.

THE CHARING CROSS BANK. Est. 1870.

119 and 120, Bishopsgatest Within, E.C. | London, and 28, Bedfordet, Charing Cross, W.C. | London, Cross, C. | London, C

PARTNERSHIPS AND FINANCIAL.

A. A.—" How Money Makes Money."—Post free to all mantioning this paper. Will clearly show anybody still the still contain the still can make from £5 to £10 profit per week! Not so bad, is it? Capital refurnable at any moment.—Ridley and Skinner, 11, Poultry, London, E.C.

PIVE POUNDS to £500 ADVANCED, on shortest notice, Programmer to sait borrower's convenience, and approved note of hand, on your own security; reparaments to sait borrower's convenience, and the programmer to sait borrower's convenience, and the programmer to the p

IMPORTANT to Capitalists, both large and small.
Pamphlet (post free) explaining How Money May be Made.
Baxter, Son and May, 17, Fenchurchest, London, E.C.

L OANS.—£10 upwards; householders, tradesmen, etc.;
L Tepay by post.—Bridge, Broadway, Woking.
L OANS.—£25 and upwards; repayable monthly, by post.
—Apply Gould, Bishopsgate, Guildford.

MONEY advanced to Householders and others; £5 to £1,000; without fees or sureties; repayments to suitborrowers convenience.—Call or write Charles Stevens and Co., 29. Gillingham-st, Victoria Station.

M. ONEY.—If you require an advance promptly completed at a fair rate of interest apply to the old-established Provincial Union Bank, 30, Upper Brook-st, Ipswich.

CITOCK EXCHANGE—We guarantee that we wired clients to buy Ontarios at 25½ and Brighton A at 108½—Write or wire for genuine information to Arthur Lindsay and Company, 4, Broad-st Buildings, London, E.C. Telephone 9,915 London Wall; Telegrams, "Utterness," London Mall; Telegrams, "Utterness, "London Mall; Telegrams, "Utterness, "London Mall; Telegrams, "Utterness, "London Mall; Telegrams, "Utterness, "London Mall; "London Mall; Telegrams, "Utterness, "London Mall; "London Mall;

£100 LOAN or Lady Partner wanted at once; high-class business; 10 per cent, interest; £300 security.—

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

BORD'S Pianos.—25 per cent. discount for cash, or 144, 6d, per month; second-hand planos, short hori-cont 164, 6d, per month; second-hand planos, short hori-cont 165, 6d, to 155, per month on the gradual system. Of the second 165, 6d, to 155, per month on the gradual system. Of the second 165, per month on the gradual system of the second 165, per month of the s

FOR Sale, Guitar with case, cheap, or will exchange for Banjo.—Willment, Farnboro, Glenbuck-rd, Surbiton.

PIANO by Boyd; walnut case; trichord; bargain for cash; 10 guineas; terms arranged. -33, Calabria-rd, High-VALUABLE Violin; must sell; marvellous solo tone; labelled Stradivarius Cremona 1690; sacrifice 18s, 6d.; approval willingly.—Mrs. Tyler, Rockingham, Uxbridge.

BOARD RESIDENCE & APARTMENTS.

A BARRISTER'S Wife, living in London, is open to re-ceive one or two young American ladies.—Write 1441, "Daily Mirror," 2, Carmelite-st, E.C.

NURSE requires small, unfurnished bedroom; quiet house; must be moderate.—Nurse, 13, Handel-st, W.C.

MOTORS AND CYCLES.

CYCLES at popular prices.—500 special Bargains on offer:
Latines, Gent., Boyst, Girls, from 25; payments from 2a. Latines, Gent., Boyst, Girls, from 25; payments becombined Cycles. Trom 42; 10a; riding schools open till 8 p.m.—'Cycledom.' 54 and 55, Blackfriars-rd, S.E., and 124, Kings-rd, Chelses, S.C.

Other Small Advertisements appear on page 16.

Is Your Time A Worth Money?

It is if you are one of the world's workers. That is why this will appeal to you.

Every day you lose time by the troubles of an ink-well and faulty pens. This can be obviated. To advertise the "Daily Mirror," the proprietors are selling a high-class Fountain Pen for 2/6. One lady writes that it is better than one she paid 15/- for.

After trying this pen you are going to talk of its wonderful value. That helps the "Daily Mirror." That is why we sell it for 2/6. That's fair, isn't it?

"DAILY MIRROR" FOUNTAIN PEN in 3 sizes of Pen Nibs, FINE, MEDIUM, BROAD.

State Plainly on Coupon which style you prefer.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON, fill in, and post to PEN DEPARTMENT, The "Daily Mirror,"

2, Carmelite Street, London, E.C. I enclose P.O. for 2s. 7½d., for which please send "D.M." Fountain Pen to ADDRESS.....

YOU MAY PURCHASE the pen at the West End Office for Small Advertisements of the "Daily Mirror," 45, New Bond Street, W.

HONOURS. BIRTHDAY

Distinctions Bestowed with a Sparing Hand.

SEVEN NEW BARONETS.

Knighthoods for Dr. Elgar and Professor Dewar.

The list of honours granted on the occasion of the celebration of the King's Birthday was issued last night.

It has few remarkable features. No new pecrage is announced, but seven gentlemen have received baronetcies of the United Kingdom and them is a seven and the seven like the seven and the seven like dom, and there is a small crowd of new Knights and a considerable number of other Anights and a considerable number of other appointments and promotions.

The most distinguished of the new knights are Dr. Elgar, the composer; Professor Dewar, identified in the popular mind with the discovery of liquid air; Mr. George S. Gibb, the great railway manager; and Mr. Thomas Barclay, whose efforts had much to do with the establishment of the entente cordiale.

PRIVY COUNCILLORS.

PRIVY COUNCILLORS.

The following the King has been pleased to direct shall be sworn members of his Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council:—
CHARLES BOOTH, ESQ.,
Mr. Booth's claim to fame rests upon his intimate knowledge of and work among the poor. His book, "Life and Labour of the People in London," has become practically the chief classic of its class. He is an F.R.S., and a partner in Alfred Booth and Co., Liverpool. From 1892-4 he was president of the Royal Statistical Society. He lives in London, in Great Cumberland-place.
COLONEL W. S. KENYON-SLANEY, M.P.
The herto of the famous Kenyon-Sianey clause in the Education Bill, and is a retired colonel of the Grenadier Guards. He served in the Egyptian campaign. He has been member for Newport, in Shropshire, since 1886. He is a well-known cricketer, and has played for England in Association football. He owns 4,000 acres in his county.

Antes county.

JAMES PARKER-SMITH, Esq., M.P.
A staunch Liberal Unionist and Parliamentary private secretary to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, a director of the Union Bank of Scotland, and member for Partick, Lanarkshire, since 1890. He is a D.L. and J.P., and was for a time a Cambridge "don."

THE NEW BARONETS. Baronetcies have been conferred upon :-

SIR ROBERT ROPNER, M.P.

A well-known banker, who has been for many years a powerful supporter of the Conservative cause. Sir Robert has represented Stockton in Parliament since 1900, and was knighted two years ago.

IIR EDWARD P. WILLS K.C.B.

Director of the Imperial Tobacco Company, the English combination which fought the American Trust invaders with great success.

ALFRED C. HARMSWORTH, Esq.
Principal owner of the "Daily Mirror," "Daily
Mail," and other journals.

Mail," and other journals.

WILLIAM J. GOULDING, E.3q.
Chairman of the Great Southern and Western Railway of Ireland. His father was a well-known merchant in Dublin. Educated at Cambridge, the new baronet was a famous athlete in his day. HENRY KIMBER, Esq., Mr.P.
Director of the Capital and Counties Bank. A great globe-trotter, and one of the most regular supporters of the Government in the House of Commons. For years he has urged the redistribution of seats question.

WALTER PAIMER. Esq., M.P.

WALTER PALMER, Esq., M.P.

One of the founders of the biscuit firm of Huntley and Palmer. He has done much for Reading, where, as philanthropist, he enjoys great popularity.

GEORGE WHITE, Esq.

Millionaire, President of the Bristol Stock Ex-

KNIGHTHOODS.

The honour of Knighthood has been given to :-

G. BARHAM, Esq.
One of the greatest authorities on the dairy trade, and Chairman of the Railway Rates Committee.

THOMAS BARCLAY, Esq.
Well known for his strenuous efforts to foster a friendly feeling between England and France.
Formerly Chairman of the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris, he had much to do with the framing of the Anglo-French Agreement.
A. A BECKETT, Esq.
Late Assistant Accountant-General of the ARTHUR BIGNOLD, Esq., M.P.

Represented Wick Burghs in Parliament since

1900. A great Scotch landowner. One of the founders of the Kennel Club. JOHN BRICKWOOD, Esq.
The well-known Portsmouth brewer.
PROFESSOR JAMES DEWAR, F.R.S.
The great scientist. Co-inventor of cordite, the trun's smokeless powder. Famous for his investigations of fliquid air.

investigations of liquid air.

GEORGE DONALDSON, Esq.

A well-known art collector. Has given liberally to the King's Hospital Fund.

GEORGE DOUGHTY, Esq., M.P.

Twice Mayor of Grimsby, which town he has represented since 1896. He was furmerly a Liberal, but became a Liberal Unionist in 1898.

E.H. DUNNING, Esq.

Director of gold mining companies.

DE FERMARD REGAR

DR. EDWARD ELGAR.
Composer. His great success was the "Dream of Gerontius." He wrote the music for the Coronation Ode.

Coronation Oue.

GEORGE S. GIBB, Esq.

The great railway pioneer. He is manager of the North-Eastern Railway—the most go-ahead line in this country. Also a member of the War Office Re-organisation Committee.

THOMAS HEWITT, Esq., K.C.
Chairman of the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation.

J. E. GRAY HILL, Esq.
President of the Incorporated Law Society.
CONSTANTINE HOLMAN, Esq.

F. T. MARZIALS, Esq., C.B.
Late Accountant-General of the Army.

Late Accountant-General of the Army.

CAPTAIN DAVID MUNRO.

Late Inspector of Constabulary for Scotland.

W. H. PILKINGTON, Esq.

WALTER PLUMMER, Esq., M.P.

Represents Newcastle-on-Tyne in Parliament.

A. O. RIDDELL, Esq.

Director of the Edinburgh firm of whisky distillers of Andrew Usher and Co.

W. P. SAWYER, Esq.

W. P. SAWYER, Esq.
Clerk to the Drapers' Company.
BENJAMIN SCOTT, Esq.

E. STERN, Esq.

E. STERN, Esq.
Dr. T. STEVENSON.
Government scientific analyst. He has helped to investigate most of the great poisoning crimes for many years.
H. TANNER, Esq.
One of the chief architects and surveyors in his Majesty's Office of Works.
T. MARCHANT WILLIAMS, Esq.
Dock Superintendent at Southampton for the past three years. He had much to do with the working of the war transports.
W. LLOVD WISF. Esq.

W. LLOYD WISE, Esq.

Founder of the Institute of Patent Agents.

JOHN BROMLEY, Esq., Accountant-General, Board of Education.
M. D. CHALMERS, Esq., C.S.I., Permanent Under-Secretary of State, Home Office.
R. A. EGERTON, Esq., Secretary to the Post Office, Dublin. R HENDERSON, Esq., Secretary to the Board

R. HENDERSON, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Customs.

BERNARD HOLLAND, Esq., Colonial Office.

G. C. V. HOLMES, Esq., C.V.O., Chairman, Board of Works, Dublin.

A. LARCOM, Esq., Foreign Office.

H. M. LINDSELL, Esq., Principal Assistant Secretary, Board of Education.

J. LITHIBY, Esq., Assistant Secretary, Local Government Board.

GERARD A. LOWTHER, Esq., His Majesty's Minister, Santiago.

J. B. MEERS, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Island Revenue.

P. W. REDFORD, Esq., Secretary to the Post Office, Edinburgh.

Licut.-Col. H. A. YORKE, Chief Inspecting Officer of Railways, Board of Trade.

G.C.M.G.

Colonel Sir Henry Edward McCallum, R.E., K.C.M.G., A.D.C., Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Natal.

Sir Robert Bannatyne Finlay, K.C., K.P., his Majesty's Autoney-chencral, for services before the Tribunal at The Hague on the question of priority in the payment of sums due by Venezuela to foreign countries.

K.C.M.G.

The Honourable George Morris Sutton, Prime Minister and Treasurer of the Colony of Natal. William Shelford, Esq., C.M.G., M.Inst. C.E., Consulting Engineer for West African Railways.

The Honourable John Frost, C.M.G., Member of the House of Assembly of the Colony of the Cape of Good Hope.
William Hood Treacher, Esq., C.M.G., Resident
General for the Federated States of the Malay

General for the Federated States of the Malay Peninsula.
The Honourable George Alexander Drummond, President of the Bank of Montreal.
John Newell Jordan, Beaq. C.M.G., his Majesty's Minister resident in Korea.
Robert Edward Bredon, Esq., C.M.G., Deputy Inspector-General of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs.
Rear-Admiral Richard Massie Blomfield, C.M.G., Controller-General of the Egyptian Ports and Lighthouses.
Francis Edmund Hugh Elliot, Esq., C.M.G., his Majesty's Minister at Athens.
In addition to the foregoing twenty-two gentlemen are appointed to the Companionship of St. Michael and St. George.

KING STARTS FOR KIEL.

Loyal Cheers Greet His Majesty's Departure.

Long before nine o'clock last night his Majesty's loyal subjects were collecting in the station yard and in the streets outside to give him God speed on his journey to Kiel, where he goes to return the has journey to kiel, where he goes to return the social visit the Kaiser paid upon him at Sandringham two years ago, and possibly to patch up a few political problems.

It is significant that at half-past twelve yesterday, afternoon the King was closeted with his Ministers at Buckingham Palace. Naturally a Council would be held before the King's departure, perhaps to sign a few papers, perhaps to decide details of that higher diplomacy of which his Majesty is the finest living exponent.

SPONTANEOUS LOYALTY.

SPONTANEOUS LOYALTY.

As his Majesty drove past the line of Guards and up the sand-strewn carriage-way into the station, cheers rose up with spontaneity from hundreds of throats.

His Majesty, who looked in the best of health, wore an Admiral's uniform, which, as a lady who had paid sixpence to a porter for the right to stand on a luggage trolly, said, is always his "official going-away dress when he travels in state by sea." Punctually at 9.45 the royal train left Charing Cross. At 11.15 the King left Port Victoria on board the Victoria and Albert, the magnificent royal yacht, which four British cruisers and six destroyers are now escorting across the German Ocean.

MEMORABLE HANDSHAKE.

MEMORABLE HANDSHAKE.

MEMORABLE HANDSHAKE.

At Holtenau Lock, at the entrance to the Kiel Canal, the King and the Kaiser, uncle and nephew, will meet on Saturday morning and shake hands in friendly greeting—a handshake which may in but a little while be talked back to as a landmark in the political history of the reign of Edward, the Peacemaker, or may sink into obscurity as an unimportant episode in the public social relations to two neighbouring Kings with family ties to look after.

ok after. The Kaiser has been at Holtenau since Wed-esday afternoon, when he arrived amid acclama-on and salute on board his yacht, the Hohenzollern.

Behind the yacht, from the lock to the giant ship-building yards in the centre of the town of Kiel, in massive, immense grey lines of three together, the entire German home fleet stretches. It is moored in position to do substantial honour to our King, Lord Admiral of the greatest Navy on the seas.

A line of buoys now marks the places in the grand line that have been assigned to the British cruisers.

BANDIT TO GIVE UP HIS CAPTIVES.

WASHINGTON, Thursday,
A telegram has been received from Mr. Gummeré, United States Minister at Tangier, stating that he expects that Mr. Perdiccaris and Mr. Varley will be released by Raisult to-day
The Moorish Foreign Minister has authorised a written undertaking being given to the Sheikh Zelal and his people to the effect that they will not suffer in consequence of the condition by which the sheikh has consented to the handing over of the ransom to Raisuli and to the exchange of prisoners taking place in his territory.—Reuter.

TRIBUTES TO DEAD ASSASSIN.

COPENHAGEN, Thursday.

The funeral of Eugen Schaumann, who committed suicide after shooting General Bobrikoff, Governor-General of Finland, took place early on Tuesday morning.

Governor-General of Finland, took place early on Tuesday morning.
The police conveyed the body to a burial ground outside Helsingfors, where it was interred.
The family of Eugen Schaumann have received letters of sympathy and flowers from all classes of the population, as well as telegrams of condolence from Poles in Paris and Boers in Johannesburg.—Reuter.

MR. ROOSEVELT NOMINATED.

CHICAGO, Thursday.

At to-day's sitting of the Republican National Convention, the delegates of Alabama, the first State on the roll, conceded New York State priority in the right of nomination, and Mr. Black, ex-Governor of New York, then formally nominated Mr. Roosevelt in a speech of some length, which was loudly applauded.—Reuter.

MURDERED QUEEN'S BRIDAL DRESS.

Queen Draga's wedding-dress (writes our Vienna correspondent) has been sold to an English waxwork show for the sum of £3,200. This costume is of great value, and is a copy of the national dress of Servia.

DIPLOMATISTS STONED.

A telegram of yesterday's date from Port-au-Prince states that as the French and German Ministers there were driving in the town stones were thrown at them. Their carriage was struck, but the Ministers were not hurt.—Reuter.

RUSSIANS ACTIVE.

Sharp Fighting with Great Loss of Life.

KUROPATKIN AS ORATOR.

General Kuropatkin is displaying unwonted energy, and has assumed personal command of the Russian forces gathering near Newchwang for what is regarded as one of the most decisive battles of the war. The position is still full of interest, from the fact that the opposing generals are indulging in an exciting race. General Stackelberg is retreating north near the railway, pursued from the south by General Oku's victorious army. General Kronda-tenko and General Kuropatkin are believed to be moving south by the railway to cover General Stackelberg's retreat, but against these two forces, two Japanese armies are marching from the eastward to isolate Stackelberg's army, and every-thing depends upon whether they can reach the railway before the Russian relief columns can render aid so far south. From a message received last night, it would appear that substantial bodies of Japanese have arrived at a point twenty miles south of Haicheng, near Newchwang, as they were able to defeat on Tuesday a Russian force comprising two regiments of cavalry, one of in-fantry, and a battery of artillery, inflicting considerable loss. This, however, is probably only a preliminary to a stupendous battle.

RUSSIANS ATTACK.

Japanese Repulse Russian Force with Great Loss.

GENERAL KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS,

(Undated), via Fusan, Thursday. The Russians, advancing from the direction of Thaimak, attacked the Japanese outposts in force yesterday afternoon, apparently for the purpose of testing their strength. The Russian force consisted of two regiments of cavalry, one regiment of infantry, and one battery of artillery. They were defeated, and retired towards Shintailing (? Santailing) with, it is supposed, considerable loss. The Japanese casualties were: Major Kubota killed and nine men wounded.

A party of foreign military attachés were visiting the outposts at the time and probably witnessed the fight.—Reuter's Special Service.

Note.—Santailing is situated on the railway about twenty miles south of Haicheng.

KUROPATKIN'S WARNING.

They Must Settle with the Japanese Promptly.

ST. PETERSBURG, Thursday. General Kuropatkin arrived at Kajping on the 20th and inspected General Stackelberg's forces. In his address he said:

"I will see, you again. We must settle with the Japanese promptly. If we don't we shall not be able to go back to our homes."

The General's words were loudly cheered. As the train moved out of the station the General stood on the steps of his saloon and waved farewell to the men.—Reuter's Special Service.

FRIGHTFUL MELEE.

The report that the Russians have lost 5,000 men near Kaichau is persisted in.

PARIS, Thursday.
The "Petit Journal" publishes the following from St. Petersburg:—
"Private telegrams continue to speak of a frightful melee having occurred on Sunday near Kaichau.

"The Russians are said to have lost 168 officers, besides 5,000 soldiers."—Reuter.

RUSSIANS' CRITICAL POSITION.

The "Echo de Paris" contains the following from its St. Petersburg correspondent:—
"A rumour is once more current that a battle has been fought between Sui-yen and Haicheng, by which Generals Kuropatkin and Kuroki are brought into contact to the north of Wa-fang-kau.
"It is even stated that General Stackelberg has been cut off, and is at present in a critical position."—Reuter.

ATTACKED BY LAND AND SEA.

It is reported here that a determined attack on Port Arthur by land and sea was made yesterday and also last night.—Reuter.

HAPPY PRINCE EDDIE

Celebrates His Tenth Birthday in Merry Style.

CIRCUS AT THE PALACE.

Prince Eddie, our future King, was ten years old

In addition to the unspoken birthday greetings of countless children unknown to him throughout the Empire, his birthday had a right royal celebration at Buckingham Palace.

Invitations had been issued by the King to about 300 children, and for these a charming and appro-priate entertainment had been provided.

With a sympathetic knowledge of what is dear to the heart of a child, his Majesty arranged for a to the heart of a child, his Majesty arranged for a performance by the wonderful animals attached to Hengler's Circus.

Punctually at four the children began to arrive, nearly all of them clad in white. The little princes set them the fashion in this respect, wearing the simple white sailor suits that become them so well.

The royal children stood by the Queen to receive their guests, and for a short time—as at most children's parties—a certain amount of stiffness reigned. Then the King, with his usual tactful resource, started a game, and soon all was merriment.

At half-past four the children, with shining eyes, clustered impatiently round the ring that had been made near the lake, waiting for the circus to begin.

Merry Royal Party.

There was nothing blase about these children at all.

Peal after peal of laughter rang-out at the quaint African banquet, which shows a party of monkeys scated at table and wated upon by a luge Himalayan bear and a little monkey variing-maid.

The King joined in the laughter as heartily as any of the children, and was especially pleased at the absence of any fear of their trainer on the part of the animals.

Prince Eddie was most fascinated by the "Highland Brigade," in which a team of monkeysailors harnessed to a gun march past with great dignity.

Prince Henry Frightened.

The great bear, which is said to be the only e in existence which can be trusted to perform thout a muzzle, seemed to perturb Prince Henry his hand stole out to touch that of his rother, whom he worships, and he was ighing as heartily as the rest. how was over in an hour—far too soon for the children.

ost of the children. No fewer than one hundred and sixty animals ok part in the performance. "They were all so good," said their director, gnor Volpi, afterwards. "No climbing trees, wildness. No, I am mad with joy at them." Tea was spread for the children in the big dining mo, and lest the fun should be marred by the esence of grown-ups these took tea separately.

the Birthday Cake.

The culminating point of the meil was the cut-ting by Prince Eddie of his birthday cake, with his name and age in pink on its snowy-white icing. After tea Punch and Judy and games, and then the signal for departure. Among the children present were those of the Duchess of Sutherland, the Duchess of Portland, Lady Chelsea, the Duchess of Beaufort, Lady Evelyn Cavendish, and many others.

GREEN BRIDESMAIDS.

Unusual Feature at Lady Isabel Innes-Ker's Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was tast which took place yesterday at St. George's lanover-square, when Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, ster of the Duke of Roxburghe, was married tr. Guy Wilson, M.P. A rather unusual feature of the wedding was that be bridesmadts and train-bearers were dressed in pale green, which is usually considered an unlucky colour, and that they carried the loveliest and most original bouquets of flowering myrtle.

The bride, too, struck a somewhat original note in her attire, for she wore a very plain white satin dress with a few touches of silver embroider? on the short train, and a rich veil of deeply-tinted lace.

The reception was held at Brook House, Parklane, by the Dowager Duchess of Rosburghe, and about tour o'clock the happy couple started on their honeymoon, the first part of which is to be spent in Yorkshire.

WORKMEN TO HELP ENTENTE CORDIALE

PARIS, Thursday,

The "Gil Blas" to-day devotes a very cordial; worded paragraph to an announcement of the forthcoming visit to Paris of 300 delegates from English working-men's clubs. "One can but rejoice," says the "Gil Blas," "at an event which contributes to the consolidation of the entente cordiale."

CRIPPLED BOY WALKS.

Scotch Healer Continues His Miraculous Cures.

Glasgow is beginning to be excited by the sucesses which are attending the efforts of William Rae, the untutored son of the pit whose marvellous feats of healing have aroused such great interest.

A Glasgow gentleman, whose boy, through hip oint disease could only walk by the aid of crutches, paid a visit to Raploch Cottage with his cripple son walked to the door.

Rae manipulated the hip for quite half an hour, when, to the surprise of the gratified father, the lad sprang nimbly to his feet, and without his crutches walked to the door.

Another very remarkable case is that of a ship-yard worker of Newcastle, who, while at work at the launch of a large vessel, had his arm severely twisted. He was attended to be local doctors, but without alleviating his excruciating pain. He visited Rae at Blantyre, although, as he told a Mirror representative, "I was doubtful that such things could be, but as my maimed arm meant the loss of 10s. a week I was willing to try it." To his astonishment he has obtained complete relief, and his arm is on a fair way to recovery.

A portrait of William Rae appears on page 1, and a view of his cottage on pages 8 and 9.

"FOURPENCE A POUND."

Strawberries Now Booming, But Will Be Cheaper Next Week.

"Choice strawberries, fourpence a pound."

This legend, displayed freely on the street barrows yesterday, may be taken as an announcement that the short-lived strawberry season has now fairly

At Covent Garden there was a great rush of the barrowmen at about ten o'clock to secure the fruit that had not already been bought by the shop-

Reepers.

An expert informed a Mirror representative that there is not likely to be any further reduction in the retail price during the present week.

Next week, however, the season will be at its height, and strawberries will probably be sold for as little as evopence a pound.

But the season will soon be over, a fact to be borne in mind by lovers of that fruit, of which the aged divines said, "Doubtless God might have made a better berry, but certainly He never did."

CURED FOR SIXPENCE.

Good Service Done By the Humble Practitioner.

The doctor who gives medical advice and a bottle of medicine for a sixpenny fee is not so rare as might be supposed.

"In almost every suburb," said one such doctor to a Mirror representative, "you may find several good, sound practitioners who, between certain hours, prescribe for a fee of sixpence.

"I myself give up certain hours of the day to my sixpenny practice.
"Many of the people who consult me could, and "Many of the people who consult me could, and would, pay more, but there are many who either could not or would not.

"I mean that I should be called upon to advise them for nothing, or they would go without medical advice altogether.

"But the sixpenny fee preserves my patients' self-respect, and, since I adopted it, I have found that it increases my actual takings, if not my nominal earnings.

"Then there are the children. Many of them are brought, when sickening for a serious or contagious disease, in time to avert any real trouble. If I charged a higher fee I would never see them until the mischief was done.

"No, I have never yet heard of a doctor who regularly prescribed for as little as twopence."

BOY PRODIGY'S HEALTH.

Franz von Vecsey, said a certain daily newspaper yesterday, was operated upon successfully on Wednesday morning for appendicible. Rumour is a wondrous thing. The "little boy" played before a crowded house in the evening of the same day, and it would have been a singularly successful operation that permitted such a feat even to such a prodigy.

Inquiries yesterday reyealed the fact that Frank was, as usual, in the pink of health and spirits.

He played at an At Home last night, and his agent has, not the least fear for his presence at the Queen's Hall on Saturday afternoon, July 2, when he will make his first appearance with orchestra, and his last appearance in London.

America has returned the Palma trophy, won at Bisley, and regarding which a protest was lodged. The National Rifle Association will probably decide to hold the trophy over until next year's meeting.

G.O.M. OF CRITICISM.

Theatrical Stars Gather to Honour Mr. Clement Scott.

A gathering of old friends and new filled His Majesty's Theatre at the Clement Scott matinée yesterday afternoon. Quite apart from the popularity of the great critic himself, the mere programme was calculated to draw all London.

There was Sir Henry Irving, appearing for the only time this season in London (with his son, Mr. H. B. Irving) in "Waterloo," there was Mr. Tree reviving the splendours of "Herod"; there was Mr. Forbes Robertson, reciting a little poem, specially written for the occasion, in tribute to specially written for the occasion, in tribute to *Clemmy," by Mr. Louis Parker. There were also Réjane, and Marie Tempest and Julia Neilson, Ada Reeve and George Grossmith, and Joseph O'Mara and Courtice Pounds, and Charles Warner and many more.

Besides all this, no less than three new plays were presented, "The Flower o' the Rose," by Mr. W. J. Locke, in which Mr. George Alexander and Miss Lilian Braithwaite appeared; "The Conversion of Nat Sturge," by Malcolm Watson, which showed us Mr. Arthur Bourchier in a nightcap; and "The Marchioness," an operatic sketch, by Mr. B. W. Findon, to music by Mr. Edward Jones.

TAMING THE TRAMP.

Drastic Proposal for Government Labour Colonies.

There are at least 60,000 vagrants in Great Britain, and Colonel Lamb, of the Salvation Army, estimates that less than 10 per cent. of them are really looking for work.

really looking for work.

The problem of reforming the other 90 per cent. of unemployables is to be made the subject of a committee of inquiry, over which the Right Hon. J. Lloyd Whatron will preside.

Colonel Lamb, who administers the Salvation Army labour colonies, points out that the Vagrancy Act fails because:

(1) The casual system of relief is unsuitable;

(2) Casual ward treatment is repressive and not reformative.

(a) Vagrants are being manufactured by the non-reformative;
(b) Vagrants are being manufactured by the non-daministration of the Act in some districts.

The remedy recommended by the Salvation Army is the establishment of Indoor colonies, to which the magistrates may commit the habitualvagrant for a term not exceeding three years.

GEORGE ROBEY IN SOCIETY.

Acts as Auctioneer at the Albert Hall

Opened for the third day at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Great Albert Hall bazaar

Never before has a dance been held while bazaar was in progress, as was the case last night, when all the stall-holders were in attendance. In the intervals between the dances, instead of going menaded the hall, and made purchases at the different stalls.

different stalls. Yesterday afternoon much excitement reigned when it was discovered that Mr. George Robey, of "prehistoric" fame, was going to hold an auction sale of some of the larger articles. As soon as he got into the hall he was surrounded and an admiring crowd trailed after him in order not to miss a joke that might fall from the great comedian's lips. But, alsa, everyone was doomed to disappointment, for Mr. Robey conducted the sale in the most approved auctioneer manner, and it was only here and there that a sparkle of wit got into his patter, when an elderly gentleman bid for a roll of hannel or an old lady for a tobacco-jar. Prince Christian was a visitor during the afternoon, and congratulated Lady Cadogan upon the enormous success he has achieved.

CHANNEL SWIMMER'S TRAINING.

Jack Haggerty, the Stalybridge swimmer chosen by the "Weekly Dispatch" for the attempt to swim the English Channel, has commenced training in carnest at Blackpool. Every day he goes through a course of land work and swimming exercises, and is rapidly becoming fit for the great trial before him.

With his trainer, Robert Cryer, the well-known north-country athlete, he walks and runs about four hours daily, and in the afternoon spends about three hours swimming in sea-water.

The temperature, however, is only $2deg., and his trainer advises Haggerty not to, do more than three hours daily at present.

The announcement of Haggerty's appointment for the great swim has caused much interest in his movements among the visitors to Blackpool.

Mr. Balfour announced in the House of Com-mons yesterday that he was still unable to say when the War Secretary would make his statement.

THE GREAT RUN.

"Mirror" Motor Car On Its Way Back.

ENTHUSIASM AT PERTH.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

PERTH. Thursday Afternoon.

After a twenty-four hours' continuous journey the Mirror car arrived safely at Perth at three The Talbot car and the Clincher tyres have both ood the heavy strain well.

stood the heavy strain well.

Mr. D. M. Wiegel has again proved his skill and powers of endurance in driving. He sat at the wheel from the time the car left London at 3 p.m. on Wednesday until Northalletton was reached, when he was relieved for four hours. Until darkness fell last might hundreds of people turned out at every village and town to cheer us on our way. At Hitchin and Biggleswade particularly large crowds had assembled to see the Mirror car pass.

cultarly large crowds had assembled to see the Mirror car pass. At eight o'clock Grantham was reached, and a stop of five minutes was made to take in petrol and also provisions, which consisted of cold fowl, hot Bovril, and bread. Some canned chicken and rice, self-heating on the "Calorit" principle, came in very useful during the night.

At Doncaster a stop was made for five minutes at the station to send off telegrams, but, as before, the engine was not stopped.

On leaving Doncaster the first serious difficulty arose. It was found very hard to keep to the right road, and signposts had to be consulted with the aid of electric torches.

Off the Track.

Twice the Mirror car went off the beaten track. The first time it careered cheerily among heather and gorse, and the second ran into a village ceme-

and gorde, also the second control of the control o who were gave information that invariably proved incorrect.

At least twenty miles was lost in this way between Newcastle and Berwick, and Mr. Weigel was reduced at last to the necessity of knocking at the door of a solitary farmhone to locate his position. Fine, steady rain, greasy roads, and a strong breeze added to the delights of the situation. Sleep was found to be next to impossible. The four occupants of the car rested, or attempted, so rest, in watches—two at a time. But spare tyres, pumps, petrol cans, baggiage, and other gear did not make very comfortable pillows; / while the steady working of the big horn and he hooter, with frequent yells of; "Say, what place is this?" were not conducive to sleep. Forty winks at a time was all we got.

Bewildered in the Dark.

Bewildered in the Dark.
Edinburgh was reached at 10.45 a.m., and a stop of five minutes was made for petrol and provisions. The engine and the tyres had given no trouble.
Between Edinburgh and Stirling nearly an hour was lost owing to the lack of signposts and reliable information as to the route. The Mirror car circumnavigated the old town of Falkirk until each chinney became familiar.
By 11 o'clock the rain had left off, and Perth was reached in fine weather.
A luncheon had been prepared at Messrs. John Dewar and Sons' establishment, where the Lord Provost and the councillors of the city of Perth were waiting to welcome the travellers.
In his brief speech the Lord Provost said how pleased he was to welcome the travellers in a motor-car which had come direct from London to Perth without a stop, a thing undreant of less than twenty years ago.
He also stated that Sir Thomas Dewar would present a cup to Mr. Wiegel for the splendid endurance qualities of the Talbot car on his return journey to Ferth.

The First Wash.

During the stay at Perth the travellers were nabled to have a wash for the first time.

The car was, however, kept going by Mr. Slatter not left for London at 3.45 with its non-stop record till unbroken.

The people of Perth gave the travellers a great send-off.

T. W. WILLIAMS.

THE HOMEWARD JOURNEY.

STIRLING, 5.35 p.m. Passing through Stirling 5.20. Car and tyres splendid. Arrive Mirror office noon, to-morrow.

EDINBURGH, 7.27 p.m. Reached here 7.20. Everything still going well. Splendid non-stop run of 541 miles so far. Tyres still in order.

- T. W. WILLIAMS.

We have received hundreds of letters and post-cards from readers of the Mirror and others who saw the car pass through their towns or villages as far north as Retford.

MURDERER'S REPROACHES.

Accuses His Judge of Being Sleepy and Prejudiced.

"We find the prisoner guilty of wilful murder." The Old Bailey jury had delivered their verdict, and before sentence was passed on John Sullivan a seaman, who had killed a deck boy during the homeward voyage from New Zealand of the steamer Waiwera, the customary question was put

The Clerk of Arraigns, addressing the prisoner, said: "John Sullivan, the jury have found you guilty of the wilful murder of Dennis Lowthian. Have you anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon you according to law?"

"Yes, that I have," the prisoner replied in a loud voice. "I consider that my Lord the Judge summed up this case as if he had a personal spite against me, and he also went to sleep while my lawyer was pleading for my life.

"That is all I have got to say," he concluded, and listened calmly while Mr. Justice Grantham, who said Sullivan had acted under ungovernable passion, passed sentence of death.

Condemned Man's Indifference.

After the solemn words "and may God have merey on your soul," the condemned man turned from the dock without uttering another word, and stepped jauntily down to the cells below.

The crime which Sullivan committed was a particularly brutal one. While the Waiwera was nearing Teneriffe one evening, he went up to Lowthian and felled him to the deck with a ship's hatchet. The boy died within a few minutes. Sullivan started singing a song, but was immediately hand-cuffed and kept in irons for the remainder of the voyage.

cuffed and kept in irons for the remainder of the voyage.

Frequently on the outward voyage, as well as when the Waiwera was returning to England, there had been violent quarrels between Sullivan and the boy. The day before the murder Sullivan was seen to go up to Lowthian, and was heard spelling out the leiters of the word "beware."

No adequate motive for the crime was to be found, though it was known that Lowthian's conduct had been tantalising to Sullivan, who wrote a long statement two days before the murder, in which he said, "I have found him (Lowthian) to be one of the lowest specimens of humanity I ever met, the most audacious liar, and a thorough accomplished thie!"

In returning their verdict, two of the jury oessired to recommend Sullivan to mercy.

BURNT BY A MOTOR CYCLE.

Remarkable Explanation for the Loss of a Codicil.

"I doubt the whole of this cock-and-bull story told by Mr. Bullard, who, being solely responsible for all the trouble, must pay the costs.

This statement was made by the President of the Probate Court yesterday at the conclusion of an application concerning the goods of the late Edmund Brook Nunn

Mr. Oswald Bullard, of Royston, Herts, had attended for the purpose of cross-examination respecting an alleged codicil in his possession, and purporting to be executed by the late Mr. Nunn. On Tuesday the Court was informed that Mr. Bullard had had to go to Royston before he could produce it.

undertaken.

Apart from what he received from the guardians Dr. Revell's private practice brought him in £890 to £1,000 a year.

Mr. Dickens said that the prisoner threw himself unreservedly upon the mercy of the Court. He was anxious to make some restitution to the ratepayers, and counsel suggested that the Recorder should postpone sentence to the next session to see what he was able to do, the prisoner meanwhile remaining in custody.

The Recorder consented to this course being adopted. Returning by motor cycle, the latter, he said, caught fire. In putting out the flames with his coat the codicil placed in his inner pocket was destroyed.

destroyed.

The President pointed out this was rather a novel way of accounting for a document.

Asked to show the remains the witness produced a brown paper parcel, carefully tied. He said he had "solemnly promised" not to disclose the contents.

The President: Never mind that. This is a court of justice.

Witness then explained the terms of the codicil, after which the President ruled against Mr. Bullard. ***************

FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

The "Daily Mirror" will be sent to any address in the United Kingdom for 1d. per day for the convenience of holiday-makers.

RETURN OF "LITTLE NELL."

Long-lost Child's Recovery Made the Excuse for an East-end Holiday.

bustle of workmen and factory girls clattering out of doors to their work. In the street the festoons of adoors to their work. In the street the festoons of flags, which had been hung out on the previous evening, waved lazily to and fro, and at the eastern end there hung above the roadway a small banner, inscribed, "Welcome home to our little Nelly."

It was at a late hour when the street awoke; as late as on the average Sunday, and it awoke to find itself crowded with visitors. For the news of the finding, at Sheffield, of Nelly Toomey, the baby beauty, who had mysteriously vanished two months ago, had spread abroad, and from every street and alley in the neighbourhood men, women, and children poured forth anxious to set eyes on the little heroine, to question her, and to give her a cheer.

THE MUSICIANS ARRIVE.

Presently a couple of barrel organs were, with much difficulty, pulled into the street by a pair of Italians, who concealed a good deal of business instinct under much dirt and rags. Then, windows were thrown open and elderly women with a fine air of gaiety about them leaned out. Men lounged out on the doorsteps to watch the fun, and occasionally to step out and dance with unaccustomed, awkward movements to the music of the harrel-organs. Presently a couple of barrel organs were, with much difficulty, pulled into the street by a pair of Italians, who concealed a good deal of business instinct under much dirt and rags. Then, windows were thrown open and elderly women with a fine air of gaiety about them leaned out. Men lounged out on the doorsteps to watch the fun, and occasionally to step out and dance with unaccustemed, awkward movements to the music of the barrel-organs.

A little later the street became full of noise and laughter, the men at the doors calling encouragement to the younger women and girls, who, decked

MYTHICAL PATIENTS.

Doctor's Fictitious List of Vaccination

After enjoying for many years a very sub-stantial income from public and private sources, Dr. Hugh Stanley Revell, lately one of the public

Dr. Hugh Stanley Reveil, lately one of the public vaccinators to the Wandsworth and Clapham Union, stood in the Old Bailey dock yesterday "ruined financially and socially," as his counsel, Mr. Dickens, K.C., put it.

For several years Dr. Revell had been receiving from the guardians between $890 and £1,000 a year, derived from a salary of £100 as medical officer and from fees as public vaccinator. It was his duty to submit a list of children whom he had vaccinated, and on this he was paid his fees. In the early part of this year numerous actitious entries were discovered in these lists, and it was found that he had forged vaccination certificates, thereby obtaining remuneration for cases which he had not make both ends meet.

Gradually a financial crisis set in, which became more acute as the week wore on. The further off from a pay-day the credit draper, the insurance man, or the hire purchase man called for his instalments the less were his chances of getting

DISCOURAGING NEWSBOYS' ENTERPRISE.

Street newsyendors in Berlin have recently re-ceived a sharp lesson on the necessity of accurately calling the contents of their papers. One month's imprisonment has been awarded two men who called out extra special war news while their papers contained nothing beyond that of other publications,

A new feast day—"the day when little Nelly in their garish best and with clean newly-washed faces, were vying with each other in speed of movement, high kicks, and endurance. Soon the entire crowd from one end of the street to the other was drawn into the dance, and the shouting grew that the street was drawn into the dance, and the shouting grew until later, as jugs, jars, and bottles of beer began to pass from hand to hand, the shouting developed into screaming and the laughter into hysterical shrieks.

"Nelly Topmey! Nelly Topmey! where!

shrieks.

"Nelly Toomey! Nelly Toomey! where's "Nelly Toomey, our pretty darling?" A stout old woman started the cry, and it was quickly taken up by the crowd and worked into snatches of topical songs.

Sometimes the outcry became so great that to quell it Mrs. Toomey, who had sat in her upstairs front room with Nelly, her husband, some women friends, and half a dozen little playmates of little Nelly, hoisted the pretty child to the window that all might see her and be satisfied.

ICE-CREAM FAVOURS.

While her mother was talking to a Mirror representative little Nelly, who is a brown-haired, bright-eyed child, sat proudly amongst her playmates, who stood watching while their little four-year-old queen ate ice-cream. Occasionally she deigned to hold out a little on a spoon to one of

SNATCHED FROM DEATH.

Firemen's Gallantry Saves Two Men from a Horrible End.

Thanks to the pluck and ready resource of the firemen at the Law Courts yesterday two works men were rescued from death by poisoning in the Five men were working in the sewer which the L.C.C. are constructing under the Strand and Aldwych. Two of them, who were about twenty yards from their comrades, suddenly cried out for help, and the three men dashed in their direction, but and the three men dashed in their direction, but meeting a powerful body of sewer gas were unable to reach them.

Realising that there own lives were in imminent danger, they turned back, and were able to reach the exit near Clement's Inn and clamber up the ladders to the surface. Here they raised an alarm, and, accompanied, by the firemen from the Law Courts, dashed to a manhole opposite the East Strand post-office. On the top being wrenched off, the two men were seen lying at the bottom of the steps, apparently unconscious.

One of the firemen at once descended with a rope, and William Berwick was promptly hauled to the surface, his courade, Robert Wright, being rescued in a similar way afterwards. Artificial respiration was resorted to, as the men were in a critical condition. Fortunately, they speedily showed signs of returning consciousness, and were they were soon on their way to recovers.

A large crowd witnessed the exciting rescue, and loudly cheered the gallant firemen.

POOR MEN'S FINANCE. DEFRAUDED BY HER HEIR. In a dispute at Clerkenwell County Court over a "round" sold by one credit draper to another it transpired that the purchaser altered his collecting day from Saturday to Tuesday. This, with regard to the fact that wages are paid at the end of the week, would, it was stated, considerably affect the takings. In giving judgment for the tailor who had sold the "round," Judge Edge remarked that he found that numbers of respectable working men had week after week to adopt a certain system in order to make both ends meet. Gradually a financial crisis set in, which became yesterday. Canon Haig Brown, who was headmaster when the prisoner was at Charterhouse, gave evidence as to the fraudulent solicitor's former character. He had been regarded as his annt's heir, it was stated, and changed his name from Ashby to Ashby-Darby at her request.

In his capacity of solicitor Gerald Gorton Ashby-Darby, whose father was a well-known Staines solicitor, was entrusted by his aunt with money for investment, which he embezzled, forging mortgage deeds in order to deceive her. He was sentenced to five years' penal servitude at the Old Bailey yesterday.

KAISER'S CUP SOLD.

It was, of course, only a coincidence, but, nevertheless, a most interesting one, that on the very day when the King was leaving London for Kiel the gilt cup presented by the German Emperor for the Cannes to Kiel race in 1898 should have been put up for auction in a London saleroom.

The cup, which is of massive design, bears an inscription stating that it was given by the German Emperor, and weighs a little over 236oz. It was sold yesterday for 240.

It may be remembered that this cup was won in 1898 by the owner of the Freda.

DOCTORS' DISAGREEMENT.

Judge's Comment on a Five Shilling Fee at Clapton.

The question of "who is to decide where dectors disagree?" as far as it relates to the medical dispute known in legal circles for the last three days as the "Wallis and Others v. Ponder" case, has been answered.

The special jury sitting under the presidency of Mr. Justice Darling in King's Bench Court VIII. has given the "decision," which is as fol-

VIII. has given the "decision," which is as follows:—
Dr. Ponder, of Clapton, must pay to Dr. Wallis and his colleagues, Dr. Burton and Dr. Ross ("Miss." Ross before she became "Dr.") the full-amount due in respect of a practice purchased by him from them in the north-castern suburb. In short, the jury has held that Dr. Ponder's claim that he had been misled as to the value of the practice has not been substantiated.
Mr. Justice Darling again enlivened the concluding stages of the case by some of his at once humorous and elucidating comments. One of the last witnesses called was a pretty young woman with a simple, quiet manner, and unassuming appearance. Many questions were put to this young woman about a certain sum of ten shillings, which, on Dr. Wallis's side, was said to have been paid by her in five-shilling fees.

The other side queried this, for they contended that five-shilling fees were few and far between. It was said in an earlier stage of the case that one Clapton practitioner, in fact, gave advice and medicine to his patients for an inclusive charge of twopence.

Not Lost at Cards.

At length the Judge came to the rescue.
"Do you mean," he said, addressing counsel for Dr. Ponder, "that she has lost it at cards?"
The inconguity of the retiring-booking young lady being supposed to be an habituce of the cardable caused an outburst of laughter, which was relieved by another interruption from the Bench.
"Mr. Stone," said the Judge to the counsel, who had been striving assiduously to drive a point home, "you have said the same thing over and over and over and over and over again so often that you make me think that I am back in the Hou e of Commons!" (Prolonged and grateful laughter).
After Mr. Whibly and Mr. Stone, the two junior counsel intrusted by their "leaders," with the task, had made able final speeches for their respective clients, the verdict recorded above was artived at.

SLAVES OF THE RING.

Fair Telephone Operators Threaten To Go on Strike.

Long hours and other things have been fostering ebellion on the Holborn Telephone Exchange The young ladies, who are such a trial to us day by day, have their trials, too, and are adopting strike methods to emphasise the fact.

The entire staff of a hundred signed and sent to

The entire staff of a hundred signed and sent to the manager of the Exchange a few days ago an ultimatum embodying their demands for redress. It was wrung from them by an announcement on Tuesday morning that the hours of work were to be increased.

It is the new system that has caused all the trouble. This "new system" does away with the ringing misance, and substitutes glow-lamps that flash when a subscriber removes the receiver, and are extinguished when he hangs it up once more.

Ten-and-a-Half Hours a Day.

"It's just dreadful," cried a pretty little telephone girl to a Mirror representative. "We have been working nine to nine and a half hours every day, and if this is allowed to go through it will mean we shall be made to work ten to ten and a half hours a day for no extra, when we signed on for nine and a half hours and signed on for nue or nue and a half hours and overtime.

"All those dreary hours we are cooped up. We are not allowed out, even to eat.

"Oh, you don't know," she went on with tears in her eyes, "how our heads ache from the pressure of that horrible receiving instrument. It does not weigh much, though under the new system the head-covering and breastplate of which it consists have been made several oninces heavier, but as the long day wears on it feels like—oh, like two tons.

tons.
"We must not falls, we must not do anything, we must not look at one another. Even on a slow day like Sunday we may not even read. Down in the black book it goes if we do anything.
"Salaries are small, and only two out of ninetynine operators at Holborn get £1 a week."

Old Soaps

Nobody wants the old soaps after using Fels-Naptha once. But go by the book.

Fels-Naptha 39 Wilson street London E C

NEWS IN FEW WORDS. MUCH

There have been 37,000 visitors to the Exhibition of Irish Art in the Guildhall.

To-day being the day appointed for the celebra-tion of the King's birthday, the Law Courts, in pursuance of a custom instituted in 1882, will be closed.

Madame Ella Russell, who is appearing as Mar-guerite in "Faust" at Drury Lane to-night, has not played the part of Marguerite in London for jome years, her last appearance in the rôle having open at Covent Garden during the reign of the late

KILLED BY COCKLES.

At an inquest at Poplar yesterday on the body of William Walker, it was shown that he had died from ptomaine poisoning set up by eating cockles. He had the cockles for ten on Saturday, and died the next day, and one of his children, who shared them with him, was very sick after the meal.

UNLAWFUL KISSING.

Thomas Kay, a one-armed man, a native of Birkenhead, was at Bury fined 20s, and costs for assaulting Sarah Ann Pilkington, a shop assistant. He called at her employer's shop offering books for sale, and whilst in the shop kissed her and tried to compel her to kiss him.

"NO-HATTERS" HATS FOR SALE.

The following advertisement appeared in a pro-vincial paper yesterday:—
No hard CRURADIE. A few good Mats for Sale, cheap:
No hardly been norm; owners no further use for them;
best quality; littles tuyles.
It seems that the "no-hatters" are burning their

SEPARATION INSTEAD OF DIVORCE

In the Divorce Court yesterday Sir Francis Jenne again had before him the case in which a special jury had found that Major Ryan had committed misconduct, but had not been guilty of cruelty to his wife, and also that Mrs. Ethel Ryan, who petitioned for a divorce, had not been guilty of the counter-charge of cruelty.

His Lordship, on the application of counsel, granted a judicial separation.

BEGGAR'S UNFORTUNATE BLUNDER.

Albert Walters, on his first visit to Warrington, made an unfortunate mistake.

Accosting a gentleman in the street, he said, "I am hungry. What are you going to give me?"

He was told to go away, but instead of taking the advice, became abusive, and snatched the gentleman's slick from under his arm.

The gentleman was Chief Constable of the town, and now Walters has been ordered to pay 19s. or go to gool for fourteen days.

SAW DEATH COMING.

A Great Western Railway carriage cleaner had a terrible experience whilst crossing the Landorf Viaduct, near Swansea. His foot caught in a check rail when a train was approaching.

There was no time to unlace the boot, and with all his efforts he could not get his foot tree. His only chance of escaping with his life was to throw his body back, in the hope that he might sustain nothing more than a broken leg.

The train came along, and the foot-plate of the engine struck his leg, causing a compound fracture. His body, however, fell clear of the train, and he sustained no other injury.

MONEYLENDER BAFFLED.

When a moneylender sued a labourer for .25 10s, at Maidstone it was stated that the labourer, without knowing what he was signing, had become security for a relative who had since died.

The Judge said to the plantiff, "Don't you think it is a most outrageous thing to lend money at 300 or 400 per cent, and to get ignorant people to sign notes like this?" He then made an order on the defendant to pay the balance due by monthly instalments of 2s., less than a penny a day.

MARQUIS ALADDIN'S CASTLE.

The inspection of the contents of Anglesey, leads to the belief that their aggregate value cannot be far short of £1,000,000.

Box after box of costly jewellery has been discovered; in one casket alone the gens were valued at £60,000. Scores of objects of the richest art have been found just as they arrived from Paris, simply opened and then put aside unpacked.

There are also several hundreds of suits of clothes, absolutely untouched, and the walking-sticks, of which there are a great number, range in value from £5 to £500.

This will be good news for the Marquis's creditors.

A man and two horses were burnt to death yester-day morning by a fire which occurred in a stable at Baffin's Farm, Portsmouth.

The freehold of the residence in Pall Mall of Sir Francis Laking, immediately opposite Marlborough Gate, was sold at the Mart yesterday for £16,500.

It is understood that Mr. Justice Wright, who is lying ill at Headley Park, Hants, will shortly place his resignation in the hands of the Lord Chancellor.

At Greenwich yesterday James Henry Sexton and Mary Sexton, his wife, were committed for trial on a charge of the manslaughter of their infant child by neglect.

There are thirty-seven candidates for the post of chief engineer to the Metropolitan Water Board, to which is attached a salary of £2,500. The Works Committee recommend Mr. B. Bryan, chief engi-neer to the East London Waterworks Company.

MARRIED TWO SUICIDES.

During the inquest on the body of James Young, whose body was found in the Wey, near Guildford, it was stated that Mrs. Young's two former husbands had both committed suicide-one by hanging and the other by cutting his SAVED RATEPAYERS-ROBBED PIGS.

It was stated at the Festining Guardians' meet-ing that the introduction of the free table at the workhouse in the place of the fixed allowance system had resulted in a saving of 2000b, weight of bread per month. The waste used to go to the

OUGHT TO BE WHIPPED.

Two boys recently hung on a signal wire near Birmingham, and altered the signal from "danger" to "clear." An express passed, and an accident was narrowly averted.

One of the culprits was sent to prison for three weeks. The other, Albert Vincent, has been fined 19s. and costs, regret being expressed that a whipping could not be ordered.

HOOLIGANS IN EUSTON-ROAD.

Two hooligans named Walker and Price, who assaulted Alice Sinclair, a nurse, who was passing along Euston-road early yesterday morning, were at Clerkenwell Police Court, sent to gool for sin months. Walker seized her by the shoulders, and Price struck her on the head and knocked her down. On the sing and shouting "murder," she was struck again and again.

MISSING DETECTIVE.

Much interest has been roused in Belfast by the disappearance of a well-known member of the Belfast detective force.

About the time that he was last seen, an official in a local bank, holding a high position, also dis-appeared, and it has been discovered that a con-siderable deficiency is shown in this official's

STARVED IN MID-ATLANTIC.

The steamship Urania has landed at Grimsby en members of the crew of the Norwegian ship ten members of the crew of the Norwegian ship-Prince Eugene, who were taken from an open boat in the Atlantic.

When picked up they had been adrift for ten days, and were in the last stages of exhaustion from starvation and exposure. Covered with sea water boils, frost-bitten, and emaciated, they pre-sented a pitiful spectacie.

Seven others of the crew, who were adrift in another boat, have not yet been heard of.

All Right For Your Pocket.

Always ready. Really indispensable. Every pen advertises the "Daily Mirror." That's why it pays to sell them for 2/6. Cut out the coupon on page 2.

A whale 76 feet long, which was captured near the Orkneys, has been landed at Stornoway.

In consequence of an outbreak of mumps in the Masonic Boys' School at Bushey, the speech and prize distribution day has been postponed.

Private Hill, of the 4th North Staffordshire Militia, who was accidentally shot at Whittington Heath, Lichfield, during rifle practice, died yester-

The Bible Society has received a legacy of £100 under the will of the late Mrs. Henrietta Mary McOubrey, who bequeathes it "in remembrance of the great interest my dear father, George Henry Borrow, took in the success of the great work for the benefit of mankind."

POVERTY DROVE TO DESPAIR.

Frederick Ellam, a labourer, living at Bucking-ham-gate, had a wife and seven children. He was out of work, and the bailifis were in possession of his room for rent.

Driven to despair he committed suicide by fix-ing some indiarubber tubing to a gaspipe and plac-ing the other end in his mouth.

GARROTTERS' HEAVY SENTENCES.

Two garrotters, named Donovan and McCarthy, were at the Central Criminal Court yesterday sentenced to seven years' penal servitude for highway robbery off Commercial-road, and a third, named O'Brien, was sentenced to five years.

DRANK HIS ANNUITY.

John Fitton, of Oldham, had been left a legacy which brought him in £1 a week, and about twelve months ago he sold his share to his brother for £200. He has since been on the spree, and spent the whole of the money. Charged with attempted suicide, he has now been sent to the workhouse.

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS' CONCERT.

A vocal recital (the 4,026th concert at the school) by pupils of Mr. Walter Austin was given at the Guidhdul School of Music last night, and proved a great success.

Mrs. Williams, soprano, who sang "Until Tomorrow" [Eden], was exceptionally well received, and afterwards sang in a duet, 'Sous les étoiles' (Goring Thomas), with Mr. Cecil Hughes.

MOTHERS' STRANGE SUPERSTITION.

Supersition among Liverpool mothers is causing trouble to the City Corporation Health Committee. Following the distribution of sterlised milk for children, the committee have from time to time had the infants weighed, to ascertain whether they were fattening on the milk.

The mothers always objected to this weighing, as they believed it was unlucky to weigh a child. Scientific demonstrations for a while allayed their fears; but recently a child died a week after being weighed, and the news having spread among the rest of the mothers they are now on strike against the further weighing, of their habies by the committee.

MURDERED HIS SISTER WITH A HATCHET

At Northamptonshire Assizes, yesterday, George Scott Burrows, aged lifteen, was indicted for the murder of his sister Elsie, aged twelve, having attacked her with a hatchet as she lay in bed. The jury found that the prisoner was insane at the time, and he was ordered to be detained during his Majesty's pleasure.

The father said his son had been reading sensational literature, and the doctor told the Court that when he spoke to the boy about the crime the latter laughed and joked about it.

His brothers, who were sleeping in an adjoining room, had probably saved their lives by locking the door, as, after killing his sister, George Burrows had tried to get into their room.

THE CITY.

Talk of Peace-New York Buying Rails-Sorry Day for Westralians.

The stock markets presented a beautiful variety of sentiments yesterday. In the Foreign section they got as far as to assert the imminence of peace. Paris had been a buyer of all its favourites, thanks to having plenty of idle money just now. There was special inquity for Argentines and Brazillans, and the rumourmongers were talking of an Argentine conversion scheme. Russian bonds were strong—more in preparation for the new loan than for peace, if we are not much mistaken. Japanese bonds still looked unhappy. Copper shares were stronger with the metal. On the whole a good day for the foreign market. Elsewhere a very doubtful day indeed.

Consols were rocky, and the investors' holding is worth a little less this morning than it was yesterday. It is all due to the bankers in Lombard-street. They are making a great hubbuh about the keen demand for money at the end of June, as though that were anything unusual. Consequently all the gilt-deged section is weaker, except the recent new Four per Cents, which find favour. Nevertheless, the Bank return was—a wonderfully good one yesterday, with £081,000 increase in the Reserve. The Bank rate was unaffered.

Kaffirs.

Argentin Do F

LATEST MARKET PRICES.

" The" Daily Mirror" prices are the latest available. Unlike most of our contemporaries, we take special care to obtain the last quotations in the Street markets after the official close of the Stock Exchange.

The fo

nowing wie the ci	osing prices for the day.
pc 9018 90	Pacific
count . 90 904
958 958	Mexican First 821 8
C. C. 8pc 934 934	Do Ord 188 1
Loan. 974 98	Rosario Cons'd 91 9
	Do Def 82 8
Loan 98 984
1886 1031 1034	Gd. Tnk. Ord 1418 1
nd'g103 104	Do 1st Pref 1031 10
4 pc 1889 77 77	Do 2nd ,, 87% 8
of Minas 88 89	Do 3rd ,, 393 4
86 88	Nitrate Ord 74
pc 1896 991 992	A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR
Unified 1041 105	Aerated Bread 83
103 103	Allsopp Ord 321 3
d. 1895-6 85 87	*Coats 96/6 97
c 75 75½	Gas Light Ord 921 9
s 923 931	Hudson Bay 394 4
ef 26 26	Ln. Gen. Om 116 11
se 62 623	*Lipton 19/- 2
pc 1899 912 921	L.& I. D. Df. Ord. 69 7
	Nelson's 20/- 2
pc Un'd. 841 841
3½ pc 56½ 56¾	Vickers, Maxim 116
	Welsbach Ord 3

District 38

Iidland Pref. 69

Do Def. 672

Forth British Def. 446

Forth Eastern 140

Forth Western 1512

Fourth Western 1615

Fourth Western 1655

Do Ord. 162 70 681 448 140 151 588 551 164

Atchison 745
Baltimore 822
Chesapeake 313
Chi., Mil. & S. Pl. 1475 Chi, Mil. & S. Pl. 147' Denvet 212
Eric Shartes 246
Do Pref. 399
Ho Pref. 399
Lville acun Ville129
Missouri 17'
Ontario 25'
Morfolk Com. 57'
Pennsylvania 59a
Reading 24
Southern Ord. 21'
Southern Ord. 21'
Southern Facific. 47'
Suthern Facific. 47'
U.S. Steel Ord. 9
Do Pref. 57'
Wabash Pref. 32'
Wabash Pref. 33'

old Coast Amt... old n Horseshoe
Bld. Per. New
Do Prop.
...
Fingall 10/

NOTICES TO READERS.

The Editorial, Advertising, and General Business Offices of the Daily Mirror are:— CARMELITE-STREET,
LONDON, E.C.
TELEPHONES: 1310 and 1319 Holborn

The West End Offices of the Daily Mirror are:—
45 AND 46, NEW BOND-STREET, LONDON, W.
TELEPHONE: 1986 Gertard.
TELEGRAPHIC ADDRESS: "Reflexed," London.
- PARIS OFFICE: 25. Rue Tailhout. LEPHONE: 1986 Gerrard. LEGRAPHIC ADDRESS: "Reflexed," London. RIS OFFICE: 25, Rue Taitbout.

Daily Mirror

HONOUR WHERE HONOUR IS DUE.

When General Booth gets up to address the opening meeting of the Salvation Army's International Conference to-night, he will do so with the knowledge that, not only those who fill the Albert Hall with cheering, but the whole body of his countrymen respect and honour him.

For many years after he began his great work-the work of arousing the love of God in the hearts of the masses, whom Church and Chapel both neglected-he was the butt of sneering disbelief in his honesty, and of humorous scepticism as to the possibility of his doing any good. Professor Huxley talked of "corybantic Christianity." To the clergy the men in red jerseys were "impious buffoons." People in general were inclined to be contemptuously hostile to the new move-

It was in fact the World against One Man, and the One Man has conquered the World. General Booth has done more for Christianity than any other human being since the days when John Wesley touched the hearts of the lower middle-class, and sowed the seeds of the Nonconformist conscience. He went down into lower depths than Wesley plumbed, and by so much was his task more difficult. Yet never once did he falter or look back.

No Pope, no Primate, has ever established a record like that of William Booth, Fighting against the heaviest odds he won his battle by sheer force of character. Call it "faith in God" if you will, but it comes to the same thing, for a man who believes in his Maker must of necessity believe in himself.

He is one of the world's greatest religious leaders. He saw before anyone else the peculiar methods which the age called for, and he put them into practice without hesitation or delay. You may not like these methods, but you cannot deny their results. The world is beyond all question a better world since William Booth began his work in a tent on Mile End Waste, close on forty years ago.

If the Church of England could produce a few men like him "Pagan London" would soon be a thing of the past.

The Russian papers ought to get up the story of David and Goliath. They are now pointing out cheerfully that only one per cent. of Russia's fighting men are in the field against 35 per cent. of Japan's available fighters. They forget that, although Goliath was 35 per cent. larger than David, he, nevertheless, died of a bad headache, directly caused by the little man's good aim. It is not the big battalions which win in scientific warfare, but those whose operations are directed by the better brain.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

I would strongly recommend that any person calling himself an Anarchist in public should be igso facto liable to a term of imprisonment ranging in duration from one mouth to two years. Such a measure would, I think, tend effectually to estinguish many political firebrands.—Mr. John Sweeney, late Detective-Inspector, Criminal Investigation Department, in his book, "At Scotland Yard" (Grant Richards).

MORNING'S GOSSIP. THIS

There is no more keen watcher of the lawn-tennis championship play at Wimbledon this week than the Crown Prince of Sweden. He is devoted to all forms of exercise, and if he were not so short-sighted would probably be good at all kinds of games. The poor young man's lines have not fallen in very pleasant places. His wife is a confirmed hypochondriac, and has to live apart from him. He himself is a martyr- to defective teeth, and often spends weeks together in the dentist's chair.

He is also reckoned a little mad, in a Kaiser Wilhelm-like sort of way. He is an immense admirer of his Hohenzollern cousin, and has even paid him the tribute of imitation—with disastrous results. To this day his father's Norwegian subjects will not pay the Crown Prince his salary. They cannot forget that he publicly declared his willingness to see Norway and Sweden at war. And, for his part, he will not apologise for his stupid speech. So he and the Norwegians are hot friends, though they may make it up if he ever becomes king.

chief." He was thinking of this afternoon's garden party at Blenheim, to which the Duke of Marlborough has invited the whole staff of this department, to which he is Parliamentary secretary under Mr. Lyttetlon. The Duke is a pleasant enough young man, and it is the fashion to say that he has "ability." Whatever he may be able to do, he has not done much yet.

Why he is given £1,500 a year for his services to the nation in the above capacity it is hard to see. He has not a tenth of the clever energy of his cousin, Winston Churchill. Yet no one offered Winston a post, even when he was a good little boy and voted regularly as he was told by the Conservative Whips. It is true the American Duchess is a delightful person and has political ambitions for her husband, and it is rude to refuse a lady. But still—!

willingness to see Norway and Sweden at war.
And, for his part, he will not apologise for his stupid speech. So he and the Norwegians are not friends, though they may make it up if he ever becomes king.

"There are advantages," said a Colonial Office clerk yesterday, "in having a duke for your second his son perform in public, exclaimed, "Can that tramp be really George?" He is, indeed, one of the most grotesque makers-up before the public.

He had no difficulty in making his way to the front when he decided to take to "the halls." His first appearance at the Aquarium (he cannot remember in which tank) led at once to a year's engagement at the Oxford. Since then not even his adoption of an elephant as a domestic pet has stood in the way of continuous success. There is a tradition that Mr. Robey was at Cambridge. He can certainly play cricket and football more than common well, and Mr. Max Beerbohm has pronunced him the one really brilliant man Cambridge has produced in the last twenty-five years.

A Duke on the stage will be a novelty, even in these days when titled players are so common. But the appearance of the Duke of Somerset at the stage of the stage Taller even than the Duke of Somerset is Mr. Catheart Wason, M.P., the giant of the Lower House, who intends on Monday next to renew his Parliamentary campaign against motor-cars. He hates nothing more than the harmless, necessary automobile, unless it be gold-mining speculators. For all his size he is a gentle creature, and occupies his fingers in spare moments with knitting needless. reedles.

He can turn out a stock my admiration, and it was only the ridicule of his fellow-members that stopped him from knitting regularly in the smoking-room at Westminster. Someone proposed a competition between him and Mr. Gerald Balfour, who is also skilled in such feminine arts. But the language of the Prime Minister's borther is sometimes strangely out of keeping with his delicate, womanish physique, and the joke was very quickly dropped.

This is Lord Kitchener's fifty-fourth birthday, and we cannot wish him anything better than the complete success of his plan for making our Indian Amy more efficient. He is meeting with difficulties, but then he is a man who, if he had nothing to overcome, would lie down and die of boredom. He looks quite young still, and India has toned down the filling-out of his stalwart frame which was noticed after his return from South Africa, so if he felt inclined to marry he would have no difficulty in finding a bride. But he doesn't.

THE WORLD'S HUMOUR.

A man has just killed an Italian organ-grinder at Oxford. His defence was that he did not know it was wrong.—"Vanity Fair".(London).

To Rival Raisuli.

There's no opening nowadays for an intelligent oung man.
Why not emigrate to Morocco?
As a colonist?
Oh! no. As a brigand.—"Le Rire" (French).

The Soft Answer.

Mother-in-law (just going away): You don't seem to be very sorry to lose me, my son-in-law. You look very cheerful.

Son-in-law: O! mama, I was anticipating the joy I shall feel when you come back!—" Meggendorfer Blätter." (German).

The Very Latest.

Her sleeves are 1830, And her skirt is '61. And her skill is 01.

Her tresses in the manner
Of Louis Quinze are done.
Her hat is quite Colonial,
Her brooch is pure antique.
Her belt is 1850. Her belt is 1850.
But when you hear her speak,
What year the maid belongs to
You do not wonder more.
Her dress is many periods,
But her slang is 1904.
"Washington Post" (American).

The American Husband.

Are you going to the seashore this summer? No, answered the tired-looking man. There's no use of going myself. I can send the money every week by 'registered letter.—" Washington Star" (American).

Conclusive.

Wretch: You are deceiving me! You are keeping up another establishmen!
My dear, what do you mean?
I found it out from your account-book. At the end of every month, "Smith, 12s. 6d."!—"Le Sourire" (French).

He Meant It!

Editor: Where would you like your notice of the new play to go?

Dramatic Critic (with a groan): In the Agony Column.—"Answers" (London).

THE WORSE FOR WEAR.

The pro-Japanese English Press is evidently unaware that in our country there is an extremely sage proverb to the effect that before the bear is killed it is a mistake to divide his skin.—
"Gazeta." St. Presshurg.

At the present rate of things there will not be much skin left to divide.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

What Is the Total of Salvation Army Adherents Throughout the World?

Adherents Throughout the World?

This is a question which will be decided at the Congress which begins to-day.

Hitherto no actual census has been possible. The far-reaching nature of the Army's operations, and the fact that its converts are made in all countries and climes, create many difficulties as to who may properly be enrolled as "members." For instance, in France, the south particularly, the fact that the inhabitants habitually drink wine, although in every other respect subscribing to the requirements of the Army, clashes with the rule that all Salvationists must be total abstainers. Again, there are reasons against the enrolment of some of the Indian low-caste converts, though their rescue from a state of heathenish ignorance gives them some claim.

Although the officers of the Army have, naturally, a good idea of its numerical strength, they prefer not to make a hard and fast statement until after the discussion of these difficulties, when they will be only too pleased and proud to proclaim the astonishing figures to the world. They will certainly run into millions.

A MAN OF THE HOUR.

Clement Scott.

The great interest that has grown up around the theatre in this country during the last quarter of century is very largely due to him. Therefore it was only right that the players should come to his aid now that he is old and in need.

They did it nobly yesterday afternoon, and now all that is left to do is to wish him many years of life still to look back upon this great reconciliation.

For there was a time, not so long ago either, when the idea of a benefit for Clement Scott would have been regarded as a joke, and a bad one. He said "what he didn't awt to a' said " and it was naturally resented, and the fat being once in the fire it frizzled on vigorously for some time.

But now all that we want to remember is that Clement Scott was the most picturesque writer about plays that the last generation knew; and thet even if he wasn't always right in his indig.

about plays that the last generation knew; and that, even if he wasn't always right in his judg-ments, he always tried to be. As things are now there isn't anybody left in "the front of the house" whose verdict will ever have a power like his. The art of praise is lost.

THE

OUR FUTURE KING'S BIRTH-DAY YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was the tenth birthday of our future King, Prince Edward of Wales. Prince "Eddie" is dear to everyone who knows him. He has the most unassuming manners and fascinating ways. He received many handsome presents yesterday from members of the Royal Family.—(Photograph by Ralph.)

WHERE RUSSIA'S TROOPS ARE GATHERING.

The main street of Mukden, Russia's great military base in Manchuria, to which place reinforcements are being hurried to meet the combined Japanese armies under Generale Oku and Nodzu.—(Stereograph copyright by Underwood and Underwood.)

Kiel, where the King meets the German Emperor to-n

THE OFFICERS OF THE BUZZARDW

The first photograph of Commander Guinness and his staff of officers on the training ship Euzzard. Reading from left to right are (sitting) Lioutenant E. Wildy, Commander the Hon. Rupert Guinness, Paymaster P. Nesbit; (standing) Lioutenant R. Wray, Lieutenant Fornio, Assistant-Paymaster C. Greenwood.—(Photograph by Ellis and Walery.)

HOME OF THE SCOT

The right hand of these two the home of William Rae, th the crowd who daily wait a window is his Twenty-five girls employed at the Holborn Telephone Exchange have notified the manager that they will not agree to the additional two hours a day which has been added to their work. If he persists in his order the girls stop work to-day.

"SUICIDES' BRIDGE" IN REGENT'S PARK.

So many suicides have taken place recently from this bridge— St. Mark's Bridge—which spans the Regent's Canal on the north side of the Regent's Park, that it is now known as "Suicides' Bridge," and the "Bridge of Sighs."

Mr. W. B. Pu

NE OF THE MEETING OF KING EDWARD AND THE GERMAN EMPEROR TO-MORROW.

The Kaiser will await the King at Holtenau Lock, at the entrance to the Kiel waters. On Sunday the King gives a dinner on board. On Monday the two monarchs pay visits, and and Wednesday are to be spent at the Kiel Regatta. On Thursday the King visits Hamburg.—(Photograph by W. Renard, Kiel.)

IRACLE WORKER AND THE WAITING CROWD.

cottages; situated at Blantyre, seven miles from Glasgow, is sh collier bone-setter. In front of the cottages are some of our for relief by his wonderful gift of healing. The top ing room, the ground floor his consulting room.

KEEN FINISH AT GATWICK.

Orphrey winning the Catwick Selling Handicap by three-Hopetoun and Camphor were second and third, divided by .

a head.

A GREAT RACEHORSE DEAD.

"Victor Wild," one of the most popular racehorses that ever lived, has just died. He had been suffering from paralysis, and was put out of his misery. He won the Jubilee twice in succession. As a yearling he was bought for £50.

NELSON'S WALK AT MERTON ABBEY.

Nelson's Quarter Deck Walk, at Merton Abbey, in Surrey, Merton Abbey was the great Admiral's favourite place of residence in the country, and he and Lady Hamilton often stayed there. It is now said that the historic house is to be pulled down.—(Photograph by Barnard.)

SMALLEST HOUSE IN LONDON.

No. 10, Hyde Park-place, W., has the distinction of being the smallest house in London. It is "sandwiched" between two large houses.

JAP SALVATIONISTS IN LONDON.

Officers of the Salvation Army of Japan, who are visiting London for the Congress. On the left of the picture is Colonel Bolland; on the right is Staff-Captain Yamamuro, editor of the Japanese "War Cry."

THE MARRIAGE OF LADY ISABEL INNES KER AT ST. GEORGE'S, HANOVER SQUARE.

SUMMER BRIDES.

THE TROUSSEAU AT ITS PRETTIEST AND DAINTIEST.

Every day the fashionable London churches have their awnings and red carpeting out now, for weddings abound. The great one of yesterday was that of Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, daughter of the late Duke of Roxburghe, and sister of the present Duke, to Mr. Guy Wilson, which brought to St. George's, Hanover-square, a very fashionable throng.

There has been a tendency lately amongst the best-dressed-girls of restoring to vogue the wedding gown that does not bear the flimsy ballroom appearance of the wedding dress that has recently been the mode. The young Duchess of Norfolk inaugurated the amended mode at her wedding before the season had fairly begun, and Lady Isabel Innes-Ker emphasised it in her toilette of yester-

A Simple Yet Splendid Gown.

A Simple Yet Splendid Gown.

The bridal toilette was of white duchesse satinquite the regulation fabric for a bride before lacencrusted chiffon came into fashion—trimmed with hows of silver tissue and an embroidery of silver wheat-ears. Her train was not an overpoweringly long one, but was very elegant and French, of a long spade shape, simply eiged with silver wheat-ears. A most handsome lace veil, yellow with age, was her bridal veil, which fell beneath a diadem of natural orange blossoms and flowering myrtle. There was a forest of flowering myrtle in technich, for the bridesmaids also carried it, bunches of it having been procurred for the occasion after most industrious and painstaking search. Doubless it counteracted the influence of the numbers of green costumes seen at the wedding. Green happens to be a very fashionable wedding colour this summer, despite old saws and supersitions. Lady Isabel Innes-Ker's bridesmaids wore delicate green taffetas frocks, made with very full skirts and picturesque bodices decorated with lace fichus. Their large white hats were draped with lace and a single pink rose, and round their throats they wore blue velvet band; fastened with diamond sides, the bridegroom's gift.

Rapplest of Brides.

Happlest of Brides.

Happy, lucky, much-to-be-envied summer bride! Of course, every other summer bride in the past has felt herself to be the happiest girl in the whole wide world on her wedding day. But the girl who is married in June or July surely has a right to feel that she is happier than all other brides. Certainly she ought to be, for, in addi-

About

"Force"

To get up on a Summer morning, have a good bath, and then sit down to an appetizing meal of dainty "FORCE" is the ideal of hotweather comfort.

There's comfort too in the absence of any preparation, any cooking, any boiling. Comfort all the day because there's nothing to make the digestive organs work at high pressure and keep the system at "boiling point."

Surry Jim

P.S.—If the little ones are feverish with the heat, fretful, irritable, try a diet of "Force" and note

ANGELA

53, CONDUIT ST., LONDON, W.

The smartest Costumière and Milliner in the West End.—Vide Fashionable Press Opinions. CHIC SPECIALITIES.

> HATS . . 1 to 3 Guineas. BLOUSES . 2 to 5 Guineas. COSTUMES 5 to 15 Guineas.

erms—Cash or London Trade Reference. country orders under £5 must be accompanied tion to belonging to the man of her heart, she should be glad in the consciousness of looking a supremely bewitching bride.

The summer bride chooses some filmy, soft material for her wedding gown in preference to heavy satin or silk. White chiffon, it may be, weiled with lace, silk voile, mousseline de soie, and satin messaline, are all materials in fashionable favour.

veiled with lace, sik voile, mousseline de soie, and satin messaline, are all materials in fashion-able favour.

Lace and little ruchings are used as trimmings for these soft fabrics, and exquisite pearl embroideries mounted on net are also the mode for exceptible when it is a plaided one, and model rately-dowered brides find delaine gowns inset with and frills of lace, are too lovely to be resisted. Everything to match is the fashion in this year's lingerie, even to the estent of having the corset and the corset sachet to match the colour of the petiticat. So the modern trousseau is an expensive matter when it is complete.

THOUSANDS OF BLOUSES

WHERE ECONOMY IS A WATCH-WORD.

Of blouses no girl can possess too many, and thousands possess far too few because they do not know where they can buy them to their own great and economical advantage.

This difficulty will be easily overcome by a visit paid to Messrs. Wynne, 15, Bridgewater-square, London, E.C., or a postcard sent for their fully illustrated catalogue, from which a choice of dainties can be made, will aid those shoppers who do not live in the metropolis.

As an example of one of the greatest bargains in the universe, the "Constance" blouse should be inspected. It is made of cambric, either figured with a pattern or dotted all over with bird's-eye spots, it is tucked and piped with white cambric, and costs only 1s. 11d., though it has a neat collar that is made detachable.

Another delightfully pretty blouse is the "Mabel," the price of which is 4s. 11d. It is made of a good all wool nuns' veiling, and is trimmed with lace of two tones, feru and white, which forms insertions on the yoke, sleeves, collar, and cuffs. The rest of the model is accordion pleated, and it has very full sleeves. As it can be purchased in the following colours, pink, sky blue, emerald green, turquoise, eau de Nil, strawberry, and reseda, as well as in black and cream, the choice is very wide.

The catalogue, which is very comprehensive, gives particulars and pictures of numbers of other models carried out in Janonese silk, lime, delaine.

very wide.

The catalogue, which is very comprehensive, gives particulars and pictures of numbers of other models carried out in Japanese silk, linen, delaine, and many other summer fabrics.

ROBI SON'S. PETER ROBINSON'S.

OXFORD STREET. REGENT STREET.

GREAT SUMMER SALE GREAT SUMMER SALE

MONDAY, June 27th.

MOST LIBERAL REDUCTIONS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Send a Post Card For Illustrated Catalogues.

GREAT SUMMER SALE.

PETER ROBINSON, LTD.

TO READERS THIS WEEK.

sum of 2a, 6d, postage de, extra, and we shall include with each FREE carat gold Stirt a massive 18-FREE carat gold perfect of the control of

MAUD BAKER

(From KATE REILEY),

Begs to offer a Special Made Corset to Measure, from One Guinea. The latest from Hours 10 to 5.

123, MARYLEBONE ROAD, N.W.

The most smartly-dressed brides of to-day are returning to the simple wedding dress that was fashionable before the elaborate evening to liette came into vogue as a marriage garment. Lady Isabel Innes-Ker were that old-fashioned bridal fabric, richest duchesse satin, decorated with silver, and looked a most charming bride.

the more elaborate gowns. The skirts of all the wedding gowns are much fuller than last year, and the full sleeves are very big just below the shoulders, while they end at the elbows with a profusion of lace frills.

For the summer bride the tulle veil is the most fashionable, unless there is ancestral lace to be worn. Boule de neige may be inserted in the tulle veil or may edge it, unless a wide hem is preferred. The veil may be arranged in any way that proves becoming. It should cover the face as the bride goes to the alart, and be thrown back before she returns from the vestry. Royal brides have the

HOLDING OUT BRAVELY.

Blockade Running in the Chimney Stack Siege.

Jimmy Gill, the Newry steeplejack, besieged by the police, still holds his chimney fort, and yesterday being the big market day large crowds flocked to get a glimpse of him.

Jimmy observed the gathering with his usual sang froid, and cheerily waved his flag at them. His latest freak is the erection of a windlass at the top of the chimney stack, and his provisions are sent up to him by his filially-minded son in a basket, thus doing away with the chance of cap-when the crowd was at its greatest, a bottle of stout was sent up, and this performance was greeted with cheers.

Yesterday Jimmy received a picture postcard from Wales with this address: "Jimmy Gill, Sugar Island Chimney Stack, Newry," while there was also written on it, "Bravo Jimmy, keep it up ould bloy, shure we're admirn' your pluck.—From Brecon."

From Brecon."

As he read it a broad smile passed over Jimmy's grimy features, and he showed it with much pride to the Mirror representative. It is interesting to note that Jimmy's family have been evicted from their house by the landlord, but this does not annoy the imperturbable chimney hero, who has every confidence in his better half looking after his family during his absence.

KURSAAL'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Destructive Fire Causes Excitement Among Visitors at Southend.

Southend's famous Kursaal and a great part of the town itself was saved from destruction by fire

The fire originated in the stables of Mr. George Ford, a corn merchant. Aided by a brisk breeze the flames quickly spread until seven stables, an ex tensive range of granaries, and some waterside

North Marine Parade at one time seemed cer-tain to be destroyed, and the inhabitants hastily removed their furniture. Amid immense excitement, beds and other goods were thrown from the windows on to the pavement below. Many of the houses were crowded with visitors.

There was some delay in summoning the fire brigade, owing to the alarm being out of order, but when they did arrive they performed excellent work and finally confined the area of the conflagration to the block bounded by Albert-terrace, Beach-road, Burdett-road, and Beresford-road. Great efforts were made to save the horses from the burning stables. They were blindfolded, but many remained obstinately indifferent to either coaxing or blows, and several, helpless with terror, were reluctantly left to their fate.

The damage is estimated at several thousand pounds.

ROUGED LADY "CLUBMEN."

Powder-Puffs and Rouge Pots Supplied in Every Club Bedroom.

At the new Lyceum Club for ladies in Piccadilly, which occupies the late premises of the Imperial Service Club, and which was opened to members yesterday, a fearful discovery has been bedrooms provided for members.

A privileged male visitor was being shown over the club. He was allowed a peep at the dainty bedrooms provided for members.

What did he see? Powder-pulfs and rouge pots provided free, and appearing as requisites on every toilet-table. He was amazed. He inquired. He was told—that it was inexplicable. He picked a rouge pot up; it was stamped "Imperial."

His lady member guide snatched at the chance afforded by this label. "Oh," she cried, "no doubt they were left behind by the Imperial Service men."

As a matter of fact, in every ladies' club rouge is supplied. Like the powder-pulf, it has become a necessity of the modern lady's toilet table. It is said, not as a matter of fact, but on good authority, that in the hairdressing rooms every fashionable ladies' club boasts the hair-dye is an integral portion of the tonsorial stock.

The Rev. C. G. Hutchins, rector of Dunton, Bucks, after attending a bazaar at Aylesbury, died suddenly in an adjacent hotel.

FIGHTING SEASICKNESS.

World's Largest Steamer Hopes to Abolish Qualms.

The steamer Baltic, the fourth of the great liners constructed in the last five years for the White Star Line, each in turn the largest in the world, left Belfast yesterday morning for Liverpool to take up her station on the New York service. Her dimensions—725t. long, 75tt. broad, and 49tt. deep—give little idea of her size. Even a sight of her as she lay out in the river was disappointing in that respect. It is only when seen alongside some other great ocean liners that the eye can measure her enormous dimensions. For instance, in passing down the harbour the American liner New York, itself a leviathan two or three years ago, seemed but a pigmy beside the new vessel, along either of the upper decks of which a furlong race might be run on the straight with £45c.

It is, however, not size which is the chief feature of the Baltic. The vessel has been designed to appeal to travellers for comfort, and sea-going qualities. The builders hope that in her they have succeeded in abolishing seasickness. It is on record that on the maiden voyage of the Oceanic, the first vessel of this type, a wineglass full of hiquor was placed on the sideboard as the vessel left Liverpool, and not a drop was spilled when she was moored to the whorf in the North River, New York.

In the Baltic it is hoped to improve even on this record for steadiness.

The Premier's Daughter

By ALICE and CLAUDE ASKEW.

CHAPTER XXII. (continued.)

Whilst Robert Chevenix reflected on the situation, its perils and its dangers, Molly Devine, or, to call her by her true name, Margaret Carew, had been taken back into the past. The sight of the man whom she fancied her betrayer had made her feel sick and faint, yet she still lowed and would always love him. Like a 'true woman, she had endeavoured to find excuses for the heartless way in which she had been deserted.

She had watched the Premier's career, taking a curious pride in the fact that he had once loved her, regarding him as a mighty, Jove-like monarch. And now that she met her supposed lover again the old sensations awoke, and she regarded him with the passionate admiration of the past.

But for herself. Margaret recollected only too vividly her lost prettiness and the dainty charm of her girlhood. She had gone through so much trouble that all her beauty had failed her, and had been freited away, she told herself. On the stage she still looked passable, thanks to powder and her paint box. But off the stage, away from the glitter of the footlights, she was a thin, haggard woman. She sat down on a large saddle-back chair, for her limbs trembled so much that she could hardly stand. After a moment of giddy exhaustion she gained courage to observe the room. It was one of those rooms that bear the imprint of their owner. A spirit of culture and severe magnificence breathed through it. It betrayed equally tastes of the scholar and the prince. A superb Murillo hung over the fireplace, a picture warm with colour. Row upon row of mellow books lined the walls. The carpet came from the East. Margaret felt that it was almost a scarliege to put her poor cheap shoes on it. The two men had begun to talk. They faced each other, like duellists, and she crouched back in her chair the betart, for she foresaw danger to the Presser open dire. His first words struck dead at Margaret's heart, for she foresaw danger to the Presser of the heartless fashion in which Robert Chevenix had descreted the woman to helieved. Presser to men have; I have served my country well and faithfully and to the utmost bent of my power. Yet I should not be where I am now hand still chang to her. And then, you your interference in your sister's private hen, you you interference in your sister's private hend a right to live her own hile; "The words broke holdy from Poul Carew, and his eyes flashed fercely." "She was my sister." The words broke holdy from Poul Carew, and his eyes flashed fercely." I land no ideas he even thought herself your wife, and I desired to save her from you. You, who hurst the soul out of Margaret Carew, and then flung her out of your path. Look at your work, man—look! See what you have made of the purperty girl who listened to your false tongue, and who believed your false yows; you thrust her out to find refuge in the gutter or the river, and now gaze on your handiwork." Paul Carew spoke with a burst of fiery energy, every muscle-in his face quivering, his hands clasping and unclasping themselves feverishly. All at once ne turned to his sister. "Why don't you speak, Margarei?" he cried fiercely, "have you nothing to say to Robert Chevenix; not a word of reproach even?" "I have nothing to say," answered the woman in low tones, pulling her veil still more closely down over her face. "I loved the man I thought my husband; I loved him so well that I forgave him everything." She turned her head and looked hard at the Fremier. "I did not onne here of my long her will still more closely down over her face. "I loved the man I thought my husband; I loved him so well that I forgave him everything." She turned her head and looked hard at the Premier. "I did not onne here of my love here to be again with me? You have evidently, only just discovered a carefully guarded secret, and now, man, speak out, what's your price?" "You have put the credits sate; I would refuse or haggle over terms?" answered the Premier half disdanfully. "What do I value except my name and my power, and the fact that I am England's servant. Now name the price of your silence; naturally you want money; out with it, how large a sum? Be quick, and name your price?"

"My price, as it happens, is not money," replied Paul Carew, looking hard at the Premier, "but something infinitely more precious to you." "Robert Chevenix glanced up impatiently, and the listening woman caught her breath, but Paul Carew smiled at both, his own mocking smile.

"Oh, no, not money," dear Chevenix," he said softly, "you have sightly mistaken my character, Money buys a good many things, but it doesn't buy me; curse you," he exclaimed, giving may to a sudder, mad burst of passion, "don't throw your money at me. You let me for three years in Princetown, you killed the soul in that wretched woman, you spoilt my wife's life, and now you offer me money! Curse your money! It's what you value least in all the world, and yet you dare to offer it to me. Do you think me a cur, or do you think me a man?"

you wante least in an the work, and yet you tate to offer it to me. Do you think me a cur, or do you think me a man?"

The Premier squared his shoulders and threw his head back. In that manner he had led the opposition in bygone days, and fronted the opposition in bygone days, and fronted the opposition now, and in this fighting vein he confronted Paul Carew. —He was beginning to understand how matters were.

"Well," he asked, hoarsely, his mellow voce deserting him, "what do you want if you don't want money—tell-me at once?"

Carew smiled at the autocratic words and imperious manner. Let the man be as proud as he liked, Paul Carew thought he knew how to humble such pride and how to stab Chevenix between the links of his armour, too, so he answered suavely—

"You can only do one thing to ensure my sparing you a public exposure, and I may as well tell you at once that my sister has never suggested it or had a hand in the matter." He turned to Margaret, and took her cold, trembling fingers in his own, "Marry her," he said stemly, and addressing Chevenix, "save your public reputation at the expense of your personal pride. Marry her," he said, and the sneer was bitter.

The Premier started back as if he doubted his own ears, and then darted an infuriated glance at Paul Carew.

"Are you mad or drunk," he asked, in heated cones," that you should even suggest such a thing?

Paul Carew.

"Are you mad or drunk," he asked, in heated tones, "that you should even suggest such a thing? It was necessary for me to abandon Margaret years ago, when a scandal would have ruined my social prestige—and now," he waved his large white hand in the direction of the shrinking figure crouching in the chair.

ago, when a scandal would have ruined my social prestige—and now," he waved his large white hand in the direction of the shrinking figure crouching in the chair.

The woman whose destiny was being this roughly footballed between the two strong men gathered her strength and wist-together, and she stood up, with a desperate rush of courage.

"What you propose is absolutely impossible, Paul," she said firmly, "and not to be contemplated for a single second. I have no wish to marry Robert Chevenix; indeed, he does not exist for me; the man is dead."

The Premier glanced at her sharply as she spoke; the words were so oddly appropriate to the situation, but he realised that they were said in total ignorance of the truth.

"You might have spared me this cruel humiliation," Margaret went on-hurriedly, addressing her self to her brother: "I you had to see the concernation of the Chevenix," her voice got very bitter, and then abandoned me; marry him—no, not to save my very life. I have so much pride left in me still. Oh, I know you did it for my sake, Paul," she added timildy, laying her hand on her brother's arm, but he thrust it away with a bitter laugh, retorting sharply:

"For your sake, i you must, indeed, have a deep belief in my charity to think I should do anything for your sake, Margaret. Do you think I could ever forgive all! I have suffered through you? Never, never, if I lived a thousand years," he went on harshly; "the marriage I propose would be the best revenge I could inflict on you and Robert Chevenix, a splendid grinding of the mills, not an act of subline forgiveness. Can you not see," he continued, warming with his subject, "the certain misery such a union would entail on you and yonder frowing man? Your heart would be stabbed a thousand times an hour by his cold diddid, his veiled dislike, whilst his pride would smart and rankle at the very rustle of your dress, the mere sound of your voice. Have I not thought out a fine, a worthy punishment, and devised a really subtle revenge? There's a certain poor two sings, 'The sin you do by two by two, You shall pay for one by one,' but in this case you pay the penalty together." Paul Carew rubbed his thin hands gleefully as he finished his long harangue, glancing triumphandy at the two victims of his malice.

Robert Chevenix hardly paused to think. He drew himself up with the large dignity that never left him, and surveyed the other man with some

Robert Chevenix hardly paused to think. He drew himself up with the large dignity that never left him, and surveyed the other man with some scorn.

"Out of my house," he said quietly, "make, my name a by-word, drag me down to the dust, rhin the man who has steered the ship of State-inte sofe harbour, and done good service to his age, do your worst, your very worst; but it shall never be said that you or any man forced Robert Chevenix into such a marriage as that which you suggest. I have a daughter; how should you have to have a daughter; how should you have to have been done in the said that you or any man forced you have to have been done in the said that you or any min forced you have to have a daughter; how should you have had not have a daughter; how should you have had been and the your or had to Moss Molly Devine, of the Union Minic Hall? Forgive my plain speaking," he said, turning to Margaret with a faint air of apology, "but it is not a moment in which to mince one's words. You, I am sure, realise the impossibility of this marriage as much as I slo?"

"Most certainly," at on his face, "for I could be made in the more appalling position for myself. You see, I am taking a selfish view of the question." Yet even as the woman spoke her head tropped forward on to her breast, and teats began to roll down her pale, thin cheeks.

The Premier hardly knew what to say or did. The real Robert Chevenix had told him very little about Margaret Carew, and he had never thought much about her, and had certainly not imagined the sort of woman she was. He was heartily distont in the state of the same and the same through the sort of woman she was. He was heartily distont him to the same than the minister of the troughed at maderbolt, and the carthy ocked under his feet. "Margaret glanced up a thim through her tears; then the few kind words produced an hysterical outburst of girfs, and she began to sob violently, drawing long, powerful breaths that racked her margaret, amore though the reas; then the few kind words produc ing outside now; he will need his hungs next week."

As Paul Carew finished speaking a shouting boy could, indeed, be heard in the great square, and his cry was echoed by others.

"Great speech by Mr. Craddock at Manchester."
"Important speech by Mr. Craddock," "Excitement at Manchester," one after another these shouts broke on the air. Robert Chevinex drew a long, deep breath. Mr. Craddock led the Opposition, and he scented battle like the war-horse; what had his opponent said?

Paul Carew glanced at the other—politician first, man afterwards." "After to-morrow," he said, quietly, "what about the chances of the Opposition at next year's general election? The fall of Robert Chevenix may do more than ruin him; what price his party?"

(To be continued 'to-morrow.)

(To be continued to-morrow.)

JOY IN THE "ARMY."

Salvationists from the Corners of the Earth Delighted Over the King's Reception of General Booth.

A certain British Tea Table depôt, in the neigh- | claborate plans of offence for the Japanese War bourhood of the Salvation Army headquarters in Oueen Victoria-street, is anything but British these days. It is a spot favoured by the foreign contin ats of the Salvation Army in need of light refreshment, and already the waitresses can say "Please" and "Thank you" in a dozen lan-

It was in this anything but British teashop that a Mirror representative gathered a few impressions of the feeling in the Salvation Army with regard to reception by the King of General Booth

A NORTH AMERICAN INDIAN

This has delighted them, inasmuch as it is by vay of being official recognition, in the most con servative of countries, of the value of their work.

And so intense is their devotion to the General that they feel, as one of them put the matter, "Nobody n have anything to do with him without being Vesterday was a quieter day for the foreign re-presentatives at Clapton. With the exception of the indomitable Japs and a few of the Europeans, they did not go out a great deal. London is an ex-sting place to the stranger; and these visitors are resting for the great reception at the cet a few parties were to be seen, notably the is, who will surely take back with them enough al knowledge of London to enable them to

These Jap Salvationists are wiry, soldierly-looking men. As a shopkeeper in Hackney remarked when they passed his door, "I shouldn't like to tackle those fellows if they had bayonets." They are, indeed, of the military type of Japanese. One of them smiled when he was told of this criticism, and said something about their " bayonets being the St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey, and the National Gallery have been "done" by most of the foreign contingents now liere. St. Paul's duly impressed the Hindoos who inspected it, of course in a different spirit to that with which the Englishman enters the Taj-Mahal.

The Mild Hindoo.

It is not to be expected that the converted Hindoo can at once grasp the meaning of sectarian differ-ences in Christianity. Yet it is surprising how ences in Christianity. Yet it is surprising now minutely do some of the Indian officers enter into these matters.

The Eastern contingents appreciate English pic-tures just as they appreciate English music. From the comments of an English-speaking Singhalee it is to be gathered that the symbolical beauty of it is to be gathered that the symbolical beauty of some of the old masters is not lost upon them. And the Japs freely admire the modern English school, especially the landscapes in the Turner Gallery. By the way, the Japanese Salvationists are eager readers of English newspapers. They are follow-ing the war news with natural interest, and are almost envious of our wonderful news service. As a matter of fact, many things are published in Lon-don before they break through the officials at Tokio. Indust envious of our wonderful news service. As matter of fact, many things are published in London before they break through the officials at oldo.

Truly, he is a wonderful old man. Next year, indeed, he contemplates a journey to South Africa.

Holland, and Germany. Germany is sending no fewer than 165 to take part in the Congress; while from Sweden about eightly have arrived.

To-day is important, first of all, because the strong American division will detrain at Euston. This will be the occasion for a great demonstration; and it is expected that the International Staff Band will meet them at the station this morning, and give them a rousing reception and stirring lead through the City streets.

Meanwhile, the Strand sweepers are stricken with envy. Hitherto, in the matter of uniform, they have only had to contend with his Majesty's Navy, Army, and Auxiliary Forces. Postmen, policemen, and the Salvation Army did not really count. But when to the Salvationists' uniform you add a turban and Dutch bloomers the Strand sweeper is too heavily handicapped. And to-day, and for the next fortnight, the Strand will be full of these new rivals!

Kesterday General Booth set the example of tre-tirement. He shut himself up at his house at

A GAUCHO FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

COMPLETE CURE FOR CORPULENCE.

INCONTESTABLE PROOFS.

Nothing is more certain than the fact that the disease of obesity has at last encountered its master-cure in "Antipon," one of the most remarkable scientific achievements of a scientific age. Thousands of persons of both sexes who have obtained permanent relief from the burden of over-stoutness are spreading the fame of "Antipon" far and near. It is an ever-growing triumph of which the discoverers may be proud. "Antipon" will absolutely cure the most severe cases of long-standing obesity. Many doctors have furnished incontest able proofs of its efficacy; for the ingredients of "Antipon" were originally submitted to a number of physicians with a view to independent scientific reports upon their therapeutic value. The written testimony of these authorities was, in every case culogistic, both the curative properties and the complete harmlessness of "Antipon" receiving the highest praise. "Antipon" is an agreeable liquid preparation containing nothing of a mineral nature. It could have none but the miost beneficial effects upon the most delicate person. Its reductive properties are unique. A loss of weight varying from 80x. to 3lb. is the usual result in ordinary cases of corpulence within the first day and night, of beginning the treatment (and "Antipon" is a textament in itself, requiring no aid from restricted dictary, drugging, purging, etc.). After this there is a steady decrease until the sure attainment, of normal weight and dimensions: The doses may then be discontinued with the positive certainty that the cure is permanent. The health-promoting, strength-giving properties of "Antipon" are not less praiseworthy. The truth is that this splendid remedy is the best of tonics as well as the greatest of fat-absorbents. It promotes appetite and assists the powers of digestion and nutrition, so that a normal amount of property-digested and assists the powers of digestion and nutrition, so that a normal amount of property-digested and assists the powers of digestion for an absolutaneous, are thus first and the suff

AN ECLIPSING RECORD OF FAT REDUCTION.

By this time the English-speaking world has become fairly familiar with the word "Antipon," as representing the most marvellously successful englished to the property of the permanent cure of obesity that has ever been discovered. The testimony which has already been published in the Press and elsewhere is of a sufficiently remarkable character, but the letter recently received from an Anglo-Indian lady, and filed for reference by The "Antipon" Company, eclipses all previous records in the matter of radical fatereduction. We herewith quote this striking letter:—

Here, then, we have a perfectly authenticated testimonial, which supports every claim that has been made for the supreme merits and powers of "Antipon," not only as an extraordinary fat-reducer, but as a tonic and a strengthener, promoting appetite and assisting digestion, and bringing about the most beneficial effect upon the general health.

The cure is complete and latting. "Antipon."

general health.

The cure is complete and lasting. "Antipon," which is a pleasantly-bitter, non-mineral, liquid preparation, may be had of chemists, stores, etc., price 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d. per bottle, from stock or on order, or, in the event of disappointment, may be had (on sending amount), packed privately, direct from The "Artipon" Company, '18, Buckingham-street, Strand, W.C.

MURDER BY HYPNOTIC SUGGESTION.

a Weird Crime of Long Ago.

a little Frenchwoman, of engaging manners and attractive features, who was introduced by M. Rene de Launay, a friend of her brother, as Madame younger generation of English newspaper readers; but in the year 1890 the whole reading world was engrossed by the extraordinary murder trial in Paris, which ended in Gabrielle Bompard being sentenced to twenty years' hard labour.

Her alleged accomplice in the murder of a Parisian lawyer named Gouffé, was a hypnotist called Eyraud Michel, and he expiated his guilt by being guillotined. Gabrielle Bompard had lived with this man in the Rue Trouson-du-Coudray, where the crime was committed.

The female prisoner's defence was that she lived under the constant influence of Michel, the hyp-

There called at the office of the Mirror yesterday little Frenchwoman, of engaging manners and extractive features, who was introduced by M. René le Launay, a friend of her brother, as Madame sabrielle Bompard.

She is but slightly known by name to the rounger generation of English newspaper readers; but in the year 1890 the whole reading world was the result of the long habit of staring blankly at cheerless prison walls. Cabrielle is only thirty-ngrossed by the extraordinary murder trial in Paris, which ended in Gabrielle Bompard being that the care beauty which heightened the interest in her trial.

Trial.

"Once or twice her laughter dispelled every shadow of sadness from her large brown eyes, revealing rows of flavless white teeth. She gushed with compliments for the hirror artist, when he showed the sketches he had made of herself. She lightly touched her glistening black hair with a soft white hand, rightly regarding her looks with pride.

Gabrielle has come to London in hope of getting a publisher to print her memoirs in book form.

"I will tell; the whole story of my life," she said, "beginning from my earliest childhood, giving

After serving a sentence for murder in France, and being refused admission to the United States in consequence, she is now in London, looking for a publisher who will publish her reminiscences.—(Sketched in the "Mirror" office.)

notist, who had power to make her do whatever will thing he liked. He prevailed upon her to lure Gouffé, the lawyer, into the house; to sit with him upon a couch near a curtain behind which Michel stood concealed, holding in his hand a rope, which was led over the curtain pole; and at a given signal she had to remove a silver girdle from her waist, and place it as a halter round Gouffé's neck.

WAIST GIRDLE AS HALTER.

She did as the hypnotist impelled her, but fainted before she fastened the girdle to the rope. Michel himself perpetrated the deed, and swung the lawyer into the air, strangling him. He then cut Gouffé's body into pieces and buried the remains in the garden. Robbery was the alleged motive, as Gouffé

Gabrielle remained in the swoon till the next day

Gabrielle remained in the swoon fill the next day, and, it was said, recollected nothing of the details of the tragedy. She surrendered herself to the Paris police, after an interval during which she trelete the police, after an interval during which she trelete that the world.

"Madame hates to hear the name of Michel mentioned." said her friend, M. de Launay in a whisper. "That is why I wrote if for you. She loathed him, and rejoiced when he died, because then she recovered from his spell."

Gabrielle sat listening intently on the opposite the whole story of the murder and an account of my experiences in prison."

She was particularly pleased to recall the fact that while in Clemont Good she acted as secretary to the head gaoler, and partook of the good fare meted out to the sick. Doctors used to visit her in prison, and she was hypnotised on various occasions. During these trances Gabrielle acted the murder over again, and always in the same way, showing that Michel was the actual perpetrator.

As a result the French President reprieved her last June, after serving thirteen and a half years. She went to America, but the immigration laws forbade her to land, and her passage was paid back to France.

Gabrielle's memairs were published in France.

ner to land, and her passage was paid back to France.
Gabrielle's memairs were published in France, and had a large sale. Having reserved the right of reproduction she now wishes to have them published in London. Nothing would give her greater pleasure than to be hypnotised here, when she feels sure the truth of her defence would be proved by what she should then say and do.
Awake she only knows the details of the murder by what others have told her.
"Please," said the little woman in the act of going to interview a publisher, "please write down that my tin jug and plate, out of which I took my food in prison, will be sold by auction at Debenham's in King-street."

A Talk with Gabrielle Bompard, the Central Figure in ORDER IT TO-DAY. A PENNY.

THE REAL SUNDAY NEWSPAPER.

WEEKLY DISPATCH.

In addition, on Sunday, to ALL the News will be the following specials.

"Will the Eagle Whip the Bear?"

Not a war story-for Russia is having troubles elsewherebut a story on the Wrestling Match between the Russian and the Yankee.

"Romance of the Salvation Army."

An interesting article told in the words of "General" Booth, who has this week been honoured by an audience with his Majesty the King.

"Apollo Tells Secrets of Strong Men."

Every father should see that his children read this article by Apollo. It will make healthy men and women of them if they follow its advice.

"Smoking-room Yarns"

Are well worth reading and reading, and telling over again. They are full of light comedy that will make your cares seem light.

"Sweethearts Still"

Is the title of the song and music given away. The air is catchy-of the whistling afterwards kind-and, of course, there are the usual features-"Question and Answer," a new kind of Answers to Correspondents; What's Wrong Pictures; the Woman's Page; the Children's Page; Poultry and Pets; Gardening, and ALL the News.

WEEKLY DISPATCH.

FALLON'S SUCCESS AT NEWCASTLE.

Cyanean Wins the Seaton Delaval Stakes-Good Sport at Folkestone.

SANDOWN AND BIRMINGHAM TO-DAY.

Newcastle Summer Meeting was wound up in] ss agreeable weather, but the sport sustained high interest to the very close. The principal races igh interest to the very close. The principal races i yesterday's programme were the Seaton Delaval takes of 1,209 sovs; the Gosforth Park Cup of 10 sovs, and the Newcastle Handicap of 300 sovs. The royal colours were carried in the Seaton-lelaval by Rosemarket, a youngster which had ready won several races this season, and was erefore obliged to give a lot of weight to his ponents. Mr. Miles 17-Anson's Coldstream, a loff's Grag colt bred by the owner, had recently at successfully through a very good trial, and he ammanded most attention in the ring. Neither Rosemarket nor Coldstream ran with a semblance of a winning chance, as after the ven competitors had traversed a few hundred rids Cyaheim drew to the front, and thence to the di had the game to herself. She won in a common inter, so it is evident this filly has made considerable important of the proposition included nothing of a second-class calibre. Cyaneam, a chestal grade of the control of the did to Mr. W. B. refoy for 550 guiners as a yearling. Thus Kalas's stable has added another to their big list of nings this week.

Lucixy Stable,

till reaching the straight, where King's Linner soon, left that group behind, and at the close managed to dispose of the resolute challenge of the favourie. The Durham colours were not in such lack in the Park Plate, wherein the highly-fancied Taboo was very easily beaten by Cross Roads.

Visitors to Folkestone found plenty of entertainment in brilliant weather. There is no more enjoyable meeting, and it is better managed than much stope of the property of t rimminge. Brauneberg profited most by the clee, and managed to beat Snowberry and Surmeder colt. The winner's task would have been one difficult if Fleurette II. had galloped more enerously in the early stages of the race. Griggs beequently lodged a complaint against J. Dillon, der of Snowberry, for foul riding.

Batho's stable was not favoured with good forme. Cloture's failure in the first race did not volve as much loss as the defeat of Lady Voter in a Westenhanger Handicap. Lady Voter was eaten out of place. She had travelled fairly well or a mile, up to which point Dalwhimme held comband. The latter, well beaten, was severely unished, and managed to struggle into a place chind Miss Blossom and Solera. H. Escott, warstrainer of Miss Blossom, subsequently ought her in for 85 guineas.

There was little speculation on the Stanford late, as it was considered a gift for Nuncastle fascagni II. was run in preference to Vieux Jeu, and the stage of the preference of the company with Sandbag, saw their chances cut own for the Chatham Handicap. But that horse tade a stout fight against Van Voght. The latter ept him at bay, and scored by three parts of a engith. This was the second win credited to suchers, as he had also ridden Miss Blossom, sellivor Tor had little difficulty in beating Aralia, Sambon, and Long Tom in the Maidstone Weller. Sandown Park and Birmingham divide the inserests of racing folk to-day, but the former will, is usual, provide much the most interesting sport.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

SANDOWN PARK. 2. 0.—Wadham Plate—Giglio. 2.30.—Rookery Two-Year-Old Race—Whistling

3. 0.—Sandringham Stakes—KILGLASS.

3.30.—Cobham Plate—Ardeer.
4. 0.—Corinthian Welter Handicap — Pure Gold.

4.30.—New Stand Handicap—LUCID.

BIRMINGHAM.

2.45.—Bull Ring Plate—Somersault.
3.15.—Warwickshire Fool Plate—Khammurabi.
3.45.—Coventry Plate—Laughter.
4.15.—Snow Hill Plate—Frobisher.

SPECIAL SELECTION.

KILGLASS.
GREY FRIARS.

THE TWO BEST THINGS.

In his nightly message to the Daily Mirror The Squire" says: -

"There should be some capital sport on the opening day of the Sandown Park Meeting. The following may prove a profitable double:—

-Wadham Plate-Morris Dancer. -Corinthian Welter-Rightful."

RACING RETURNS.

NEWCASTLE.—THURSDAY.

1.50.—CAMPERDOWN SELLING WELTER HANDICAP
PLATE of 100 sors; winner to be sold for 50 soys, Six furious, straight,
Mr. Cohn. Wellingenore.

GOSFORTH PARK CUP (a Handicap) of 500 sove cup value 100 sovs and 400 sovs in specie). Five fur-

Dogs. straight.

Mr. F. Siroud's BWEET KATILE, by St. Simonministration, and the straight of t insight, these-parties of the second process of the second state. The second se Oross Roads, 10 to 1 Isabelle II. or any other. Won by six-lengths; a length and a half between the second and third. FOLKESTONE .- THURSDAY.

1.50.—DEAL SELLING FLATE of 100 sovs; winner to be sold for 50 sovs. Fire furlongs.

Mr. L. B. Beachamp's BOUGHTON HILL, by Vorasity—
Indiana. aged, 50; 401.—10.

M. Hashey I. Hashey I.

18 71b). (Winner trained by East.)
Betting—9 to 4 agst Phylloxers, 5 to 1 Fleurette II., 100
5 Brauneberg, 109 to 15 Clanueur, 8 to 1 Susie, 100 to 8
as Burrender coit, 20 to 1 Snowherr. Won by threeturters of a length; a head between the second and thin10.—WESTERHANGER SELLING HANDICAP of 106 sors; winner to be old for 50 sors. One mile and 2
sors; winner to be old for 50 sors. One mile and 2

2015; winner to be sold for 50 sovs. One mile and a MUNIAL MARCH CONTROL OF MARCH CONTROL O 154 40).

[Winnet trained by Owner.]

[Betting-5 to 2 aget Lary Voter. 5 to 1 Onliver.]

[Betting-5 to 2 aget Lary Voter. 5 to 1 Onliver.]

[Betting-5 to 2 aget Lary Voter. 5 to 1 Onliver.]

[Betting-5 to 2 aget Delvin Lary Voter.]

[Betting-6 to 2 aget Delvin Lary Voter.]

[Betting-6 to 1 Onliver.]

[Betting-6 to 1

3.30. - STANFOID PLATE of 300 serv, for very ser consequent to receive 30 sors, and the third 20 sors. Five second to receive 30 sors, and the third 20 sors. Five services are serviced to the services and the services are services as a service services. The services are services as a service services are services as a services are services as a service services are services as a services are services as a service services are services as a service services

POINTERS FROM THE BOOK.

The following horses, selected from the programme for to-day's racing at Sandown Park have all good form to their credit in the book:—

2. 0.—Wadham Plate—Energetic. 2.30.—Rookery T.Y.O. Race.—Silver Ray color of Whisteling Rupes. 3. 0.—Sandringham Stakes—Zinfandel or Kil-

GLASS.
3.30.—Cobham Plate—American Boy.
4. 0.—Corinthian Welter Handicap — Pure

4.30.—New Stand Handicap—St. WILLIAM.

Duke of Devonshire's r 127

Lord Dunraven's f by Desmond—Combine
R. Sherwood
Gilson
Reseal

3.20—COBHAM PLATE of 200 covs; winner to be sold for 500 covs. Five furlongs, Mr. H. Bonas Mandelsy (£200)...H. Chandler 6 8 11 Mr. W. G. Stevens s c by Despair—Myrth (£200) Owner 3 7 13 Mr. Russel's g by Whittier-Emotion (£200)

PAPER SELECTIONS.—Jockey—Ardeer. Racehorse—Ardeer or Lovetin. Racing World—Mandelay or Lovetin. Gale's Special—Lovetin. Sporting World—Renzo.

4. U About one mits after average of the Standard Royal Winfield Owner J. C. Sullivan's Royal Winfield Owner J. C. Sullivan's Wir William Owner William Wir William Owner C. G. Grandard Wir D. J. Pullinger's Pure Gold Marnes Mr. P. P. Peobles's Slighthrit Owner Mr. R. C. Barwan's Gendy ... Hallok Mr. C. B. Grand's Glendy ... Hallok Mr. A. Walton's MAOVE ARRIVED.

Major Scattering Company Company

4.30-NEW STAND HANDICAP of 300 sove

4.30 NEW STAND HANDICAP of 500 1003. On the control of the control

1.45 -CROFT SELLING PLATE of 106 sovs, for two year-olds; winner to be sold for 50 sovs. Five furlongs, straight.

alveragh g aGolly aAnnamulloch aGuide Post ... eEmberton ... aWorcester Flo aCloudy aDevil's Limit aCapricho f ... aDimedala

2.15-COOMBE PLATE (a high-weight Handicap) of 100 sovs. Five furlongs, straight.

mbolie ruit Girl hrift

-The Chair. Racing World-Winnipeg or Week End. 2.45-BULL RING PLATE (a high-weight Handicap) of 106 sovs. One mile and a quarter.

SELECTIONS.—Jockey—Saroth. Racehorse— Racing World—Little Sprout. Sporting World

3.15-WARWICKSHIRE BREEDERS' FOAL PLATE of straight.					SP 13

	st	1b		st	lb
The Beak	8	9	Tiresome c	8	3
Catchword f	8	3	Amychen	8	5
a Dairy Maid	8	3	Dinneford	8	3
Mascara c	8	3	Filgrove	8	0
Scotch Mixture	8	3	Canter f	8	0
Retros c	8	3	Merryhill Lass f	8	0
Eugenia c	8	3	Sauterelle	8	0
Royal Mint	8	3	Lady Chapel f	8	0
Lord Gascoigne	8	3	Chili	8	0
a Great Tom	8	3	Queen's Plate	8	0
Katherine Parr c	8	3	O.R.C	8	0
Grandiflora	8	3	Lucky Omen		U
Orator	8	3	Sweet Clover		0
a Khammurabi	8	3	Blameless	8	0

Racing World-Orator or Khammurabi -Grandiflora or Khammurabi. Gale's Spe

Q AE-COVENTRY PLATE of 106 sovs, for two-

0.10	Five furlongs.	straight.
Sweet Notes c Bellator Waulken Phast a Laughter Evacuation Mignonette	8 10 8 10 8 10 8 7	Princess Royal f 8 B Donna Superba 8 Sister Liha 8 Fare Thee Well f 8 Silver Gate 8 Eagerly 8
Ritchie Kirk Deighton Guy Middleton	8 5 a	Wise Saw 8 Raven's Pride 8 Strawberry Hill g 8 Meta III. g 8
a Lord Cork Mahlstick c a Sea Fox a Mark Wood	8 5 8 5	Enceladus 8 Kettering f 8 Suntai f 8 Wise Love 8
The Jackass Wild Hermit Delarey Nell Gwynne	8 5	Iphigenia 8 Kilblair 8 Hermopolis 8
DADED SELEC		w Missonatte on Laughter

Racehorse—Laughter. Racing World—Laughter. Chilton' Guide—Bellator. Gale's Special—Laughter or Mignonette Racing World—Laughter.

4.15-TRIAL SELLING PLATE of 106 sovs; winner to be sold for 50 sovs. One mile, on the Round

	Vrs s	t lb		vrs st
aRushport	. 4	9 5	aBaric	3 7
aBallinclair	. 6	9 4	aGold Hackle	g 3 7
aWalk Over	. 6	9 4	aE.C	3 7
aEndillo	. 4	9 1	aMarlborough	3 7
aGrey Girl	. 4	8 12	aPlot f	3 7
aRusholme	. 3	8 4	aOsborne	3 7
4 4 × mrom -	12213		T - 5 104	于50位5000

4.40		al	half.
	yrs st	lb	THE PROPERTY OF STREET	YIS	st	11
Kirkoswald	. 5 8	13	Zephire	3	7	4
a The Buck	5 8	13	Maud Pulleyn	3	7	4
Next Thought	5 8	10	Ronaldina f	3	7	4
Lady Calista	5 8	10	Cinder f	3	7	4
Dreamer	4 8	10	Thirteen	3	7	4
a Frobisher	3 8	3	Duckbone	3	7	4
Cross Roads	3 8	0	Dorothy M	3 .	7	4
Khalim	3 7	7	Emerald Agnes	3	7	4
Herbert Vincent	3 7	7	Gruach f	3	7	4
a Henpecked	3 7	7	Sea Gal	3	7	4
Merry	3 7	7	Debonnaire II		7	4
Molly Shipton	3 7	7	Flamboyant	3	7	4
Intrepid	3 - 7	4	CAST POST POST POST POST POST POST POST PO

PER SELECTIONS.—Jockey—Frobisher. Racehorse— dina filly. Racing World—Frobisher or Herbert Vin Gale's Special—Frobisher. Sporting World—Perfec

STEWARDS' CUP ENTRIES.

The following entries for the Goodwood Stewards' Cup were published in yesterday's "Racing Calendar":—

yrs	Vrs	yr
Indian Corn a	Wolfshall 4	Mary Belle
Le Blizon a	Uninsured 4	Cinquefoil
Master Willie a	Begone 4	Santry
Cloverlev 6	St. Emilion 4	Laveuse
Sundridge 6	Bachelor's Fancy . 4	El Maestro
Cossack 6	Surbiton 4	Aspendale
Mandelay 6	Asterisk 4	Hackenschmidt
Out o' Sight: 5	Tippler 4	Killeevan
His Lordship	Lady Corea 4	Sansovino
Goldrush 5	Otherwise 3	Xeny
Csardas 5	Milford Lad 3	Montem
Nabot 5	Western 3	Gold Crest f
American Boy 5	Helter Skelter 3	Red Wing IL c
Duke of	Ambrose 3	Melodious
Westminster 5	Wayfarer 3	Lord Toddington.
Dumbarton Castle 4	Mountain King 3	Merryman
Imperial II 4	Newsboy 3	Divorce Court
Our Lassle 4	Melavr 3	Delaunay
	Bass Rock 3

SUMMER HANDICAP WEIGHTS.

In yesterday's issue of the "Racing Calendar," the weights for the Summer Handicap to be run at the Second July Meeting at yrs st lb	yrs st lb	yrs st lb

Hammerkop 4 9 0	Orbel 6 8 2	Falcon 4 7 4
Rondeau 4 8 12	Prince	Prestwick 4 7 2
Merry	Florizel 5 8 0	Torpoint 4 7 1
- Andrew 5 8 11	D'Orsav 4 8 01	Florinda 4 6 13
Fermoyle 5 8 11	Genius 6 8 0	Bowery 5 6 12
L'Aigion 4 8 10	Haresfield 6 8 0	Goring
Cheers 5 8 9	Servator 6 7 13	Heath 3 6 7
Roe O'Neill. 4 8 9	Pradella 5 7 11	Love Game 3 6 5
McVardley 6 8 8	Housewife 3 7 9	St. Kitts 3 6 0
Wet Paint 5 8 4	Cock of	Lucid 3 6 0
Firmilian 4 8 4	the Roost 4 7 4	The state of the s
		A HARLY CANADA WINE HERE

INTERNATIONAL FENCING.

The International tournament, which commenced on Monday last at La Scala Theatre, Earl's Court Ex-hibition, was continued yesterday, with the following Amateurs .- Foils: M. Lemaitre (France) beat W.

Amateurs.—Folis: M. Lemaitre (France) beat W. Marsh (England) by 1 hit to 9; M. Lemaitre (France) beat W. Broadbent (England) by 3 hits to 1.
Epbe: A. Fellow (England) beat Mr. Atheling (Epber A. Fellow) (England) beat Mr. Atheling (England) beat Mr. Atheling (England) by 1 hit to 6.
Fellows (England) by 1 hit to 6.
Fellows (England) by 1 hit to 7.
Fellows (England) by 1 hit to 8.
Fellows (England) by 1 hit to 1.
Fellows (England) by 2 hit to 1.
Fellows (England) beat Professor Santelli (Italy) by 2 hits to 1.
Fellows (England) beat Professor A. Roulau (France).
Fellows (England) by 1 hit to 1.
Fellows (England) by 1 hi by 2 hits to 1. Epfec: Professor Galante (Italy) drew with Professor A. Rouleau (France), 2 all; Professor Galante (Italy) beat Professor Werbrugge (Belgium), by 2 hits to 1. Durand (England) by 3 to 2; Miss de Smett (Belgium) lost to Miss M. de Bonfanti (France) by 3 to 1.

BOWLERS' DAY AT THE OVAL.

Lees Captures Seven Lancashire Batsmen for 69, Huddleston Takes Surrey Wickets.

KEEN AND EXCITING PLAY.

Yesterday's play at the Oval in the return match between Surrey and Lancashire was somewhat peculiar in character. The weather was fine aid the wicket fast, so that there seemed every reason to expect some so that there seemed every reason to expect some y scoring; but the ball beat the bat to a surprising it, and except for a little while after lunch runs s seemed easy to get. Tyldesley alone among the battemen in the two elevens did himself anything justice, and MacLaren, Spooner, Hayward, and e uphearten.

ces. Hornby was out a tast to a mining, mining, a total of only 173 Surrey stood in rather a facing position; but they never recovered from Hays downland at 4, and the bowling nearly always had to be only a facility of the was bally missed to hours and fifty minutes, but he was bally missed e slips by Huddleston when he had made 14. In at, he was the inith man to leave made it in Davis, when he had made it. In Davis, we have a been such as a constant of the control of the co

A. C. MacLaren, c Hayward b Knox 22 R. H. Spooner, b Lees 7 Tyldesley, c Hayward b Lees 47 H. G. Garnett, b Lees, 21 Sharp, c Strudwick b Lees 5 L. O. S. Poidevin, c Hayward b Lees 17	Hallows, c Strudwick b Knox
THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE REY.
Hayward, b Brearley 2 Baker, b riallows 59 Hayes, c Brearley b Hallows 11 Holland, c and b Huddleston 19 L b Huddleston 0 Less, c Poidevin b Huddleston 2	Davis, c Hornby b Hallows 28 H. D. L. G. Leveson-Gower, c MacLaren b 4 H. D. A. Knox, run out 4 Gooder, not out 4 Gooder, not out 7 Struck 7 Total 159
	The state of the s
BOWLING
LANCASHIRE.
Lees 22.2 5 69 7	Davis 3 1 10 0
Knox 19 2 85 3	Davis 3 1 10 0
Knox bowled	two no-balls.
SURREYF	irst Innings.
0. m. r. w.	o. m. r. w.
Brearley 24.2 4 47 2 Hallows 19 9 26 3	Sharp 9 2 23 0
Hallows 19 9 26 3	Huddleston . 14 5 36 4

YORKSHIRE'S ANNUAL FRIGHT.

en and interesting day's cricket was witnessed at resterday in the opening of the match between ire and Somerset, who usually provide sensa-starts for the Yorkshiremen, even if they do not

The chief homeurs rested with Lionel Palairet, who gave brilliant and faultless divolay. Going in first, he ored 50 out of 67 in three-quarters of an hour, and 70 it of 120, being third out. He played in beautiful yle, making several fine cuts and a number of splendid ives, always keeping the ball well down. Palairet was batting for an hour and a quarter, and time 4s. He found a useful partner in Johnson, the is being the best stand of the innings. The comments is being the best stand of the innings.

as at the wickets for an hour, made some good pulls do n-drives. do not drives, went in sixth wicket down at 200, and was the last man out, played very quietly for some time, at towards the close he hit with freedom, making three four big drives. He obtained his runs in seventy innters, and did not give a chance, six has in ninings of 0,0, and Haigh bowled better than his figures would sugest, being unlucky in beating the battemen and missing ac wicket. Rhodes sent down a lot of loose balls, and litts, dowing to his bad leg, could only bowled slows. And cored 80 runs for the loss of two wickets. Jackson, who as not out 42, played very facely, combining strong archful defence with skill and judgment in hitting. He arrowly escaped playing a ball into his wicket, but he displayed the wickets in hand, are 222 runs behind. Present score and analysis:

SOMERS	ETSHIRE.
L. Palairet, c. Hunter b. Haigh 70 Braund, b. Hirst 70 Braund, b. Hirst 11 Haigh 5 R. Johnson, c. Hunter 42 F. M. Lee, c. Wainwright b. Myers 31 Robson, c. Jackson b. Myers 36 Myers 36	nicliffe b Jackson 2 H. C. Martyn, st Hunter b Myers 4 Hardy, b Myers 2 Newton, b Haigh Cranfield, not out Extras 1
YORK	SHIRE.

F. S. Jackson, not out ... 42 H. Wilkinson, b Braund 6 Penton, c Cranfield b Robson 23

Hirst, Rhodes, Myers, Haigh, Wainwright, Whitehead, BOWLING ANALYSIS. BOWLING ANALYSIS.
SOMERSTRIPRE—First Innings.

O. m. t. w.
Hirst 11 2 25 1 Jackson ... 14 0 59
Rhodes ... 30 8 71 0 Myers ... 9.2 1 29
Haigh ... 27 6 85 4 Wainwright .4 0 17

ALEC HEARNE'S FINE FEAT.

In the opening of the second match of the cricket festival at Tonbridge yesterday, Alec Hearne accom-plished the rare feat of going in first and carrying his bat through the innings, being not out at the close for 90. He perhaps erred on the side of caution, for he was some extremely fine bowling against him, and there were times after luncheon when the game was going none too well for the side. Hearnet so my histait were a chance at the wicket when Hearnet sony mistaits were close to the wicket when the contribute 90 for the first partnership in eighty minutes; but afterwards matters went badly until Blaker So out of 74 in the first partnership in eighty minutes; but afterwards matters went badly until Blaker So out of 74 in the first partnership in eighty minutes; but afterwards matters went badly until Blaker So out of 74 in the first partnership in eighty minutes; but afterwards matters went badly until Blaker So out of 74 in the first partnership in eighty minutes and the simple state of the simple simple state of the simple sim

Present score and analysis:-

GLOUCASTERSHIPE.

Wrathall, c Mason b Blythe 15 Fielder 18 Extras 18 Extras 7 F. F. Thomas G. L. Jessop, M. Townsend, Langdon, Haggins, and Dennet to bas.

BOWLING ANALYSIS.

KENT.—First Innings.

0. m. r. w.

Huggins ... 45 18 121 0 Spry ... 7 0 15 2 Consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent to the second consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent to the second consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent to the second consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent to the second consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent to the second consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 8 3 22 2 Consent ... 48.5 15 95 7 Thomas ... 4

LEICESTER'S BIG TOTAL.

The outstanding features in this match at Leicester yesterday were a very fine innings by Knight and a highly ten 4's.

Hampshire had an hour's batting, and in that time hit up 96 for the loss of one wicket, so that they are how 273 runs in arrear, with nine wickets to fall.

Present score and analysis —

16
1

First Innings - Johnstone (not out) 58, Webb (b Odell) 23, Stone (not out) 5, extras 3; total (for 1 wkt), 90. T. H. Daahwood, F. H. Bacon, Sprot, H. Hesketh-Prichard, Hayter, Langford, T. B. Frederick, and Llewellyn to bat.

BOWLING ANALYSIS.

	First innings.
o. m. r. w.	AND STREET OF STREET). m.	r. w.
Langford 21 2 77 0	Johnstone
Llewellyn 29.4 5 122 %	Fractorials 1	6 4	41 7
Prichard 32 13 92 5 8	A TOUGHTON 7		20
Taractural and To de de	oprot o	27 15 Table 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	20
Langford and Frederick	each bowled or	e wide	1650199
CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY OF

SINCLAIR'S FIERCE HITTING.

At the Crystal Palace yesterday, in the opening stage i their eighth match, the South Africans had all thee sets of the game, as after putting logether a total of they got down six London County wickets for 120

332, they got down six London County wickers for 120. Tuns.

The batting of the South Africans was singularly uneven and for the fine two they obtained they were the six of the first wicket, at 20, Hathorn was fifth out, at 286, having played faultless cricket for two hours and a quarter. He hade his runs in polished style, his cutting a continuous control of the six of

SOUTH A	FRICANS.
L. J. Tancred, lbw b	E. A. Halliwell, c Bale b Douglas 3
W. A. Shalders, lbw b	G. C. White, b Mead 2 S. J. Snooke, thu b Mead
R. O. Schwarz, c Bale b	S. C. Horwood, b Douglas
J. H. Sinclair, c Mead b	J. Middleton, not out Extras
Grace103	Total33

W. Q. Grace, c. Hathorn by Kotse Murdoch, b. Schwarz.

W. B. Harris, G. Halliwell b. H. Murch, Bale, Richardson, and Mead to bat. Total (6 wkts) ...120 Minch Bale Richardson, and Mead to bat.

SLOW SCORING AT BRIGHTON.

All day long at Brighton yesterday runs were hard to obtain, the result of an afternoon's cricket lasting close upon five hours and a quarter being that fifteen wickets [Sussex wound up the day with the advantage, getting rid of Oxford for 159, and then scoring 130 for the loss of five batsmen. In obtaining these, however, they experienced considerable difficulty, occupying two hours and a half in the task.

Present zonce:

J. E. Raphael, b Cox 5	W. S. Bird, b Relf 3
R. W. Awdry, c Read b	G. T. Branston, c Read
Dwyer 23	b Cox
C. D. McIver, c Relf b	A. C. Von Ernsthausen, c
	Cox b Relf
	E. G. Martin, not out 1
K. M. Carlisle, b Relf 51	C. W. Burn, c Fry b Cox
L. D. Brownlee, c Relf b	Extras
Cox 7	THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE

C. B. Fry b Burn 21 Fasch, b Burn 9 Fasch 10 Fas

BRILLIANT BATTING BY PAYNE.

BRILLIANT BATTING BY PAVNE.

After a most disastrons start at Lon's yesterday Cambridge played up so well that they had the best of the aftermoon's cricket. Batting first on a fast pitch, they played Bosanquet's slows very badly, five wickets falling for 4S, and then, with Wilson compelled to retire owing to indisposition, they had practically six men out for 87. Indiana, which will be a considered the start of the grame take a decided turn. Payne went in after the interval, and scored a brilliant 102 out of 149 put on by the last three partnerships in seventy minutes, including eightnee 4's. He gave only one chance, to Ranjitsinhiji at mid-off when 43.

At the close M.C.C. were 145 behind, with only four wickets in hand.

Brighton was affected by the sun.

Present score:—

CENTURIES OF THE DAY.

tl.	Batsman.		Best H
30	Hathorn (S Africans)	. 145	min. 18	4's
03	Sinclair (S. Africans)	. 75	min. 20	4'5
02*	Payne (Cambridge)	. 75	min. 18	4'5
18	Knight (Leicester)	. 145	min. 16	4's
	"Signifies not out.

LAWN TENNIS.

Continued Success of the Belgians in the All-England Championships.

SHOOTING AT THE GUN CLUB.

The international series of reunions were transferred yesterday to the enclosure of the Gan Club at Notting Hill. A field of fifty-two abscribed to the £5 handicap seceptiates for the Faris Cup, value £49, amongst whom a meritorious victory with the highest sequence of 12 kills. The pool, which amounted to £210, was shared with a French visitor, Baron R. Gourgand (27), who had Gan and the £40 can be a first of the fir

SPORTING NEWS ITEMS.

The Stock Exchange Rifle Club, which is now in its third year, has organised an inter-office shooting compectition at Bisley on August 20. One hundred guineas has already been promised towards the purchase of a trophy which will be competed for annually.

At to-day's show of foshounds, harriers, beages and bloodhounds in the pole ground at the Cogles and bloodhounds in the pole ground at the Cogles and bloodhounds of the Cogles and the Co

Hadlow, the New Forest.

Goifers will be glad to learn that Jack White, who won the open championship at Sandwich a fortnight ago, is not so fil as the rumours which were current yesterday might have led people to suppose. After the strain of the championship in felt a trife. "run down," and decided to take a rest, but he was up and about yesterday, although, adhering to his original resolve, he did not

Small Advertisements

SITUATIONS WANTED.

PRINTER.—Respectable man seeks situation (jobbing).-H., 365, Katherine-rd, Forest Gate, E.

SITUATIONS VACANT.

BETWEEN-MAID wanted at once; for town; one no been out before not objected to.—Write Y. B., Bond street Bureau, 45, New Bond-st, W.

OK-GENERAL wanted at once; for very quiet family near town; wages £20-£24.—Cail to-day and to-morrow W. 45, New Bond-st, W.

COOK-GENERAL (young) wanted; for 1 lady; very easy situation.—Call to-day and to-morrow, Mrs. S., 45, CENERAL Servant (good) wanted; three in family; smal house; wages £18-£22,—Apply Kheilah, Southdown-rd Wimbledon, S.W.

GENERAL wanted immediately; 18 to 25; plain cooking of 5 in family; good wages to capable person; must have good personal character.—Write or apply 6, Norbury-gar deas, Molfort-d, Norbury, S.W.

GENERAL wanted; plain cook; small family; wages £16.

—Apply Saint Aubyns, Nether-st, North Finchley. KITCHENMAID (young) wanted; for Aldershot; wage

SCULLERYMAID wanted at once; for Cookham; wages

USEFUL Help wanted; not under 20; servant kept; good home.-1, Tring-av, Ealing.

CONSTANT Employment is offered to a few men who can furnish good credentials; no outlay.—Apply by post-card for particulars, 1437, "Daily Mirror." 2, Carmelitest, E.C.

C5 PER WEEK easily earned by advertisement writers free.—Page-Davis Advertising School (Dept. 109), 195. Oxford-st. London, W.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A CHICKEN-HATCHING MARVEL.—For 2s. 6d. th Texas Egg Hatcher and Rearer combined supersedes a ibators, hatches above and rears little ones below simul-ously all the year round; a money-making home indus-requiring neither capital nor labour, turns 1d. eags valuable chickens or ducular valuable chickens or ducular turns 1d. eags 1d.

A RE YOUR SHIRTS AND COLLARS WELL DRESSED?
If not, post them to Thompson's Model Laundry, Mar-

ASTHMA CURED by Zematone. Write for free trial box to Cornford, 4, Lloyd's-av, London.

BEAUTY BATH POWDERS ensure clear, white skin

BUNION OINTMENT.—Cures tender feet, corns, chi blains; 14 stamps.—Chiropodist, 85, Regent-st, London CONSULT Mdlle. Beatrice, the highly-recommended bours 11 to 7.

2. Carmelitest, E.C.

DANTY TEETH FOR LADIES.—We are Artists in Dath, over set a special study; sets, £1, £2, £5, £4, £5; single tech, 28, 60, 48, 78, 64, each.—The People's Teeth Association, 138, Strand, London, W.C.

Teeth Association, 186, Strand, London, W.C.
DEAPNESS AND NOJSES IN HEAD—Gentiman Quere
Office, 21, Amberley House, 55, Waterboard, London.
"DICTDAW."—I do away with the disheloth, ensure hands through weshings—send any engry stamp for me to Manager, 151, Upland-rd, London, S.E.
PACE MASSAGE, for softening and beautifying the complexion and efficing wrinking action in doise in their Ealings. The Complex of the Complex of FRECKLES, even of years' standing, can be effectually and harmlessly removed.—For particulars send stamped envelope to Madame Lynton, 4d, York-mansions, Chicheled, Crickkwood.

HOW TO SING CORRECTLY, without teachers; wonder the classifier secrets; marvellous results guaranteed—write free book immediately, 1249, "Daily Mirror, 45, New Bond-st, W.

K HAMA. Chirvoyante, Palmist, casts taken, only satisfactory method by post, Keiro's methods.—2, Orchards, Oxfordst (2nd floor).

L ORD's Prayer, ten languages; curio; 2d., free.—" Amusement." Offnce, 6, Whitefrairs-st.

M ADAME VAL, the famous Palmiste, Crystal; fee 2z. 6d.

M ARVEL Eyelash Oil; only 1z.—Mrs. Seymour, 124, New Bondest.

100 years).

POMANA Cream: skin food and wrinkle cradicator; 2s. 6g.

P-Artricia, Central Chambers, Hastlags.

RIGGWORM Permanently Cured; use Porter's Specific.

Tor child, youth, adult; 1s. 3d. and 2s. 9d. bottle, post free in plain package.—Porter and Co., Elly, Camba.

SIX times too much coal burned.—Write Sugar House Mills Company, Stratford.

Daily Bargains.

NOTICE. — When replying to advertisements addressed to the "Daily Mirror" Office ao remittance should be enclosed in the first instance.

A BARGAIN,—Underlinen, 10s. 6d. parcel; 8 chamlees.
Call or write Ees, 160 Larkhalisane, Clapham.
A COSTUME to measure, 42a.—Marsh, Tailors, 47, Whitager, 1985.

FREE dainty sample Handkerchief, with illustrated lists; send stamp.—British Linen Company, Oxford-st, BABY'S LONG CLOTHES, complete set, 50 articles, very choice, unused: 21s.; approval,—Mrs. Max, The Chase, BABY'S COMPLETE OUTFIT; 68 articles; 18, worth double; Robe, Daygowns, Nightgowns, Flannels; approval.—Call or write, Mrs. Scott, 251, Uxbridge-rd, Shepherd's Bush.

perpendicular and a second control of the se

BLOUSES, ladies materials made from 2s. 6d.; Costumes

BLOUSES made ladies' materials; excellent fit, style from 2s.—Miss Course, Rushden.

DUN DIRECT AND OBTAIN genuine durable Irish linen,
—Note prices. Handkerchiefs 2s. 5d. dozen. Collars 4s. 11d. dozen. Six shirt renewed 15s. Price lists free.
—Hutlon's, Room 81, Larne, Ireland.

CINGALESE Lawn for dainty wear; patterns free.—Cingalese Lawn Company, 62, Aldermanbury, E.C. DAINTY Tea. Dressing, or Bed Jacket 2s. 2d.-Write Lorne, 46, Fitzroy-st, London.

CENT'S SUIT, to measure, 25s.; Ladies' Tailor-made tumes, to measure, 52s. 6d.; payments by instalm if desired.—City Tailors, 20, Prince Wales s-rd, Norwich

LADIES, requiring Outflet will do well to call at the Bond-street Dress Agency, Ltd., 25, New Bondest, where there is always a large selection of faccinating garments et bargain price; gowns from £1 to £25, (Entrance Blenhelmet-1).

Diefinisment)

I INEN POR SUMMER COSTUMES.-Flarazilia, pure la linea; dirable, light, soft, safe; many exquisite choice are patterns. From 1n, yard. Samples post free-Hutton's, Room 31, Larne, Iroland.

OSTRICH Feather Boss, 6s. 9d. each; manufacturer's bankiruptcy stock; colours; matural, French grey, black manufacturer and the colours of the property of the colours of the colours. The yel; approval. Emanuel. Bankruptcy Association, 31, Clapham-ed. DEFIT year own, White, Shriets, will used.

SLOANE DRESS AGENCY, 166, Sloane-st.-A large so

Al. TELESCOPE, three-draw, solid, brass, 30, milescope, achromatic tenses, 5s. 2d., with case; large size 7s. 2d., real bargain; apply immediately, auditional mediately applications, 2d., London.

rd, London.

A BARGAIN. Sheffield table Cutlery: Seuinea service
A 12 table, 12 desert knites, pair carvers and steel Crayford vory balancel handles; unsolied; accept 10s. 9d, approval.—Mrs. H., 65, Stockwell-rd, S.W.

approval.—Mr. H., 68, Stockwell-rd, S.W.

A DECIDED Bargain.—Strong Striped Hemp Hearthrugs; but reversible, fringed, 73in, by 55in, 2 for 8s, carriage BARGAIN.—Beautiful carbehain Baccile, in case, real BARGAIN.—Beautiful carbehain Baccile, in case, real 18-asis policased warranted; sacrifice, 3s, 3d; approval before payment.—Miss Seymour, 7, Chapel-walls, Manchester.—
CHARMING colouted Miniatures from any photograph, Chapman, Artis, Swauses.
COPYING Press Stand for eale; splendid condition; cost 23 for, what offert —10, Princeseré, South Norwood, FISH Knives and Foris; handsome 4-guines case, 6 pairs accept 10s, 6d; companion case Deserte; 18s, 6d; elaborate 2-guines case Fish Carvery; 8s, 6d; approval.—M. E., 31, CNENTS.

Claphan-rd.

GENT, 8 magnificent 18-carat gold-cased Chronograph C Blop Watch; timed 500th part of a minute; size 18-carat gold-cased double-curb Albert, with seas statehed; all named; worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6d; approval—0. Davis, 17-caratic worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6d; approval—0. Davis, 17-caratic worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6d; approval—0. Davis, 17-caratic worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6t; approval—0. Davis, 17-caratic worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6t; approval—0. Davis, 17-caratic worth 50t; lot, 6t, 6t; lot, 6t; l

DAILY BARGAINS.

L ADY'S MAID sacrifices privately 2 ladies 18-carat gold-cased Orient Diamond Rings, 3s. the 2; also beautiful gold-cased Bracelet, only 2s. 6d.; approval pleasure.—Miss Russell, 13, Upper Montagu-st, London, W.

PHOTO Postcards of yourself, 2s. dozen; astoundings John-st, Liverpool.

REAL Hair Tails, Fringes, 2s. 6d.; Wigs, Transformations; illustrated catalogue free.—Drew, 394, Essex-rd

Islington.

Sponss and Forks; wedding gift; Al quality; silver of plated on nickel silver; handsome service; 12 each table and dessert Spons and Forks, also Teaspons (6 picces); list price £8 192 61, accept 35z; half quantity, 18z; approval—Mrs. Roberts, 2, (Gaylanderd, S.W.

SWEETHEART'S Curious Letter.—Six very funny photo and curious novelty, 1s. 6d.; securely packed.—Hyams 13 Court, Bishop-st, Birmingham. VENETIAN Blinds; carriage paid, 41d, per foot; list free-Blind Works, Tudor-rd, Cardiff.

9D, will buy 3s. 6d. worth of artistic Picture Postcards sent free.—Publisher. 6, Grafton-sq, Clapham.

O. DAVIS. PAWNBROKER.
20. DENMARK-HILL. LONDON.
GREAT CLEARAN ON APPLICATION.
10/6. GENT.S MAGNIFICENT 18-CARAT GOLDLiewelled mavement, perfect timekeeper. 10 years written warranty sito 18-cart gold istamped filled double Curb £2 2a. Tiree together, sacrifice 10s. 6d. Approval before payment.

payment.
10/6. CARE'S KEYLESS WATCH. pewaled more ment, cract times the payment of the payment o gether, ascrifice, 10s. 6d., worth £2 2s. Approval telere payment.

19/0. LESS WATCH, jewelled 10 rubies, richly engraved case, splendid timekeeper, 10 years' warranty, wer's trial. Secrifice 19s. 6d. 25 5s. SERVICE SHEPFIELD 10/6. UCTLEEN, 12 Table, 12 Cheese Knive, Cavers, and Steel; Crayford 1vory balanced handles; unsolied; sacrifice 10s. 6d., approval before payment.

8/6. damped filled, in Mroccase. Samifice, 8s. 6d. Approval before payment.

8/6. HANDSOME LONG NECK-CHAIN, genuine 18-borrero care agoid (stamped) filled, choice design, in Morrero Care agoid (stamped) filled, choice design, in third pattern, extra long, 10s. 6d. Approval before payment.

tiful pattern, extra long, 103, 00. approva extra long, 1776.

7/6. Suncoular, 40 miles range, 10 achromatic crystal lenses, in addic-made sing case. Sariface, 78, 66, 39 proval before payment.

9/6. MGMIYECRN 25. 35, 4-plate HAND CAMERA; Occupant of the pattern of the patter developing an entring accessors, sacrines, so, support 10/05. marked DIAMOND and EMERALD DOUBLET HALF-HOOP MING; large lustrous stones; sacrifice 10a; 5d.; approval. before payment. O. DAVIS, Pawhorker, 2e, DENMARK-HILL, LONDON

Wanted to Purchase.

FURNITURE, Objects of Art, Clothes, etc. bought; good sent full value returned same day; state particulars.-Paddington Furniture Stores, 33, Praed-st.

HOLIDAY APARTMENTS TO LET AND WANTED.

BOURNEMOUTH, Comfetable board-residence; close to 1d. stage to pier, gardens, etc.; 15s. weekly,—Miss D., Fontenaye. Heron Court-rd.

PRIGHTON.—Apartments; superior; ses, piers, theatres: week-end, 12s. 6d.—10, Jul Steine.

POLKESTONE.—Board-residence; liberal table; every comfets; lodies 29s., gentlemen 25s.—Walters, d.

Warrent-d.

G moderate terms: ilberal table. Proyeils, Proprietor.

Hastriggs. Facility near to combine the first terms: ilberal table. Proveil, Proprietor.

HASTRIGS. Facility near to combine difference, 21s. 6d.—

MARGATE. Glenry, 3-5, Hatfellord: apartments or board-residence; one mingle sea. Westbrock.

OULTON BROAD.—Commodere Hetel; rooms; facing the Broad; boats, launches, Sachts; reasonable terms.

Westoliff N. Wales.—Pleasant and comfortable boarding.

HYL, N. Wales.—Pleasant and comfortable boarding in the compact of the SOUTHEND Superior apartments; good cooking; great comfort; no card. 71, Norfolk avenue.

MARKETING BY POST.

A.—A DAINTY DRESS PARCEL for 30s.; a marvel of enterprise; 2s. 6d. deposit, balance 1s. weekly; write

WILLIAM BOWRON'S

SPECIALITIES FOR THIS WEEK.
Finest Cornish Butter, is. ib; finest Lumbardy Fresh Butter, 1s., Cornish Cream, per 2s. 55, quart; large jar, ditto, 2s. 6d, per couple; large Fewis, 4s. 6d, and 5s. per couple. Carriage paid.
English Goilings, from 4s. 5d.; Ducks, from 2s. 9d.; large Hares, 2s. 6d.; White Grouse, 10d. each; English Ducklings, from 3s. 6d.

HAMPERS

and 2 Bordeaux Pigeons; [d], obt. got Emission Shake Game.

Cash with order. Trusting optional.

Cash with order. Trusting optional.

WILLIAM BOWBON (Dept. M), 279-281, Edgware-rd, R. John abod, W.; also at Baker at Station (No. 3 Paulorm).

R. John abod, and Baker at Station (No. 3 Paulorm).

R. John abod and Dalaform. Telegrams. "Anything, London." Telephone, 9, Paddington.

HOUSES AND PROPERTIES.

Auctions.

CHEAPEST FREERIOLD BUILDING LAND NEAR MESETVOOD, Close to the light Street-being rapidly built up to-only 10 the light Street-being rapidly built up to-only 10 the light Street-being rapidly built up to-only 10 the light period. The land invertient in the market. Certain future profits. Balk of 130 FIOTS of BUILDING LAND 37 MESET AND ADDRESS CONTROL OF THE STREET AND THE STREET AND ADDRESS CONTROL OF THE STREET AND ADDRESS CONTROL OF London.

WimbleDON.—Villas to let, or sale on easy terms; rents with the control of the control

BARGAIN.-Residential Farm of nearly 230 acres; NesBARGAIN.-Residential Farm of nearly 230 acres; Nes5 minutes; extensive stabiling; house and buildings worth
£2,000; price only 5,000 guiness or near offer; must be
£2,000; price only 5,000 guiness or near offer; must be
£2,000; price only 5,000 guiness or near offer; must be
£2,000; price of the first of the first

PETS, LIVE STOCK, AND VEHICLES.

DAHIBITION Plymonth Rocks: 3 pullets in full lay in mariated ockered of grand type; eggs for life in a standard cockered of grand type; eggs for life in a standard cockered of grand type; eggs for life in a standard cockered of grandard cockered of grandard companion, highest policy of the cockered to grandard companion, highest policy of the cockered of grandard companion in the pulpy; a months, a standard cockered of grandard cockered of granda

EDUCATIONAL.

CHATHAM HOUSE COLLEGE, Ramagate.—Founded 94
Varar.—High-class school for the sons of gentlemen.
To the '14 VBE.K.E.R.' The Buffs. '17 unior school for the '14 VBE.K.E.R.' The Buffs. '17 unior school for boys under 13; 48-page illustrated prospectus sent on application to the Handmark mar sufferer desires pupils.

CHAMMERING, Lispin Erichin-lane, London.

Advertisements under the headings:

Partnerships and Financial.
Musical Instruments.
Board-Residence and Apartments.
Motors and Cycles.

Annear on page 2.

rinted and Published by THE PICTORIAL NEWSPAPER Co., LTD., at 2, Carmelite-street, E.C.—Friday, June 24, 1904.

"DAILY MIRROR" SMALL ADVERTISEMENT FORM.

Small Advertisements written on this Form will be accepted at the Offices of the Daily Mirror, 45 and 46, New Bond Street, W., or. 2, Carmelite Street, E.C. (one minute from Blackfriars Bridge), for insertion in the Daily Mirror, at the rate of 12 words 1/-(minimum, 1d. per word afterwards. (Name and Address must be paid for.) If sent by post, the Order Form must be accompanied by postal orders (not stamps) crossed Barclay & Co.

	A Manufacture With S
		And Control of the Co